Fire and Explosions Terrify Jersey City

BLOCKS IN RUINS AS 500 FAMILIES ARE SHELTERLESS

Scores of firemen hurt when acid blasts send four buildings tumbling to ruins.

NEW YORK APPARATUS CROSSES ON FERRIES

City is rocked by chemical blow-ups while flames rage; fireboats fight blaze.

Jersey City, November 14.—Five hundred families, made homeless by a fire which destroyed four blocks of a factory-tenement district Friday afternoon, are being cared for through emergency measures, while Jersey City checks up on a property damage estimated as high as $5,000,000.

Many of the victims had fled screaming while their neighborhood was being torn as if by shells and liquid fire.

Scores of Firemen Hurt.
A score of firemen and a few spectators are suffering from injuries of varying degrees as a result of chemical explosions in a ruined factory.

These explosions continued to occur at intervals, but the fire itself, which brought out the entire Jersey City fire department, was declared to be under control late in the afternoon.

The fire raged for six hours in the Gammontown section before the firemen became its masters, but there was no loss of life despite the showers of debris, acid and dangerous fumes that came in the wake of the blasts.

Although the spread of the flames has definitely been checked, it probably will be two days before the countless streams of water being played on the smoldering ruins extinguish the last spark.

Explosions Rock City.
At about 9 o'clock in the morning the blaze started in the basement of the Battelle & Kendrick Saltwater factory and, as the roar of scores of chemical explosions rocked the city, leaped from building to building until the surrounding area became an inferno of flame.

As huge fiery tongues of red, blue and green shot into the air, the rocking detonations and the hissing of burning chemicals, sounding like the burning of a gigantic fuse, threw the neighborhood into panic.

Hundreds Flee From Horror.
Screaming, moaning and shouting, hundreds of men, women and children fled from their paths of the flaming horror. Some staggered through the streets with smoke-blackened faces; others carried clothing in bags, tied to their backs, or dragged pieces of furniture while mothers clutched howling babies.

A few pushcarts in the district were dumped by the fire, and other wares while frantic householders tried to high with family belongings.

Fireboats Fight Blaze.
Meanwhile, as the Jersey City fire department assembled its full strength, as fire companies from Hoboken and other nearby Jersey towns rushed to the scene, and as three New York fire boats and a half-dozen tugs in the harbor were called into play, the ground shook with the intermittent explosions and the crash

OPPORTUNITY'S KNOCK

Steady Progress

High-pressure workers sometimes attract a great deal of attention. Men of occasional flashes of accomplishment may seem to stand out from the crowd. But the consistent performer is the man who is really getting ahead.

Test it out in your everyday work. See if it doesn't apply to every one with whom you're associated in business. And when you discover how true it is, make it the basis of your activity.

A steady pace wins the longest race.

It's the same way with regular reading of the Classified Ads—steadiness in following them pays the most dividends.

Posse To Comb Mountains For Two Alleged Slayers

Will get house, Anderson, dead or alive.

Devoting the entire day Friday to assembling the evidence already in hand and to organizing a posse that is to go into the moonshiners' stronghold in north Georgia mountains today and seek to deliver the bodies, dead or alive, of Guy Anderson and Glenn House, sought under warrants charging murder, federal, state and city officers, who have investigated the slaying of Special Officer A. J. Webb, of Milton county, and the near-slaying of County Policeman Ver Elson, said late Friday afternoon the murder cases will be ready for trial upon the arrest of Anderson and House.

Solicitor General Pemberton Cooley, of Gwinnett county superior court, came to Atlanta early Friday morning and spent the entire day in conference with Solicitor General Fred D. Dismuke and the officers who have had active charge of the investigation since the slaying more than a week ago.

George Baker, who signed a statement Friday that led to the murder charge warrants against Anderson and House, was brought before Solicitor General Cooley, as were John Thornton and other witnesses who have been rounded up as a result of the week's investigation. It was reported that Solicitor General Cooley left Atlanta with all the evidence necessary to go to trial when Anderson and House are apprehended.

Thornton, who, with Parker, was lodged in jail Wednesday night, was released from custody following his appearance at the conference Friday.

It was said he would probably be used as a witness in the case, but that nothing had developed showing he had any part in the whisky-running and murder plot. Baker was ordered held, but no formal charges were lodged against him, and it was reported that he was being held as a material witness in the case.

While Solicitor General Cooley and Prohibition Director Dismuke were engaged in the murder evidence conference, other officers were engaged in selecting the men who will go to the north Georgia mountains today in search of the accused men, declared the man-hunt would certainly develop into a battle of wits and bullets.

Veteran prohibition agents, some of whom have worked on the murder case, are confident that Anderson, House and "Guinea" Kansom, the latter sought under a warrant charging him with being an accessory to the murder, have gone into the fastness of a moonshiner's stronghold and that they will be found barricaded and prepared to resist arrest.

"This crime is one that strikes straight at the heart of law and order," declared Director Dismuke. "Webb was slain and Elson was left for dead by men who have defied the law, and especially the prohibition law."

FINAL CHEST MEET OF CAMPAIGN HELD AT HOTEL TONIGHT

Total of $569,398 Toward $795,000 Goal Was Subscribed Through Meeting Friday.

With $18,496 in new subscriptions added for the day, Friday's report meeting of the Community Chest at the Kimball house brought Atlanta's charity fund to the new total of $569,398.

"Now I want you fellows to stop and think a moment about this," said General Chairman Eugene R. Black, in the course of the meeting. "Did any of you ever make $20,000 or $25,000 a day? Well, that's what we are doing here. We've made more than $2,000 in the last minute or two. I tell you, it's worth while."

Friday's meeting was by far the best the chest campaign has known so far. There was evidence of more spirit, more confidence, more determination to see the thing through than had been manifest at any previous meeting in the ten days the campaign has been in progress.

Final Meeting Today.
The final meeting of the campaign will be held Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Kimball house. All workers except those who have been selected for special service, will be released then, according to Chairman Black.

Mr. Black requested Friday that every member of the campaign carry the word out to all who were present.

Crisis Hovering Near Sick Room Of Mrs. Harding

Suffers Extreme Exhaustion, Failing Noticeably in 24 Hours, Is Bulletin.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Marion, Ohio, November 15.—(Saturday.)—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, seriously ill at White Oaks farm here, is "approaching a crisis," a bulletin issued at 1:45 a. m. stated.

"We are anxiously waiting the coming of morning," Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, her physician, said. "Receiving a little from a depressing condition earlier in the evening, the late president's widow rested but little during the night."

Her physician expressed "grave" concern, but said she might rally with the coming of morning.

Marion, Ohio, November 14.—The condition of Mrs. Florence Kling Harding was reported tonight as worse in a bulletin issued by her physician, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer. He said Mrs. Harding suffered two slight "air hunger spells" today similar to one last night when she breathed only with extreme difficulty.

APPROVAL GIVEN WORLD GATHERING OF CLUBWOMEN

Georgia Federation Indorses International Council Plans But Halts Collection of Funds.

NEXT MEETING SLATED FOR 11TH DISTRICT

New Main Building at Tallulah Falls School To Be Named for Atlanta Federation.

Approval of the great international gathering of clubwomen to be held in Washington May 4 to 14, 1925, and called the sixth quinquennial meeting of the International Council of Women, was declared through a motion passed at the executive board meeting which was the closing session of the 28th annual convention of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs on Friday afternoon.

This motion, however, called a complete halt on the collection of money from Georgia Federated clubs or the building of an organization for this purpose from among clubwomen until instructions have been obtained from the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. John D. Sherman, by Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, director for Georgia in the General Federation.

Discussion preceding the passage of the resolutions revealed that interest in this tremendous approaching conference of women has already eventuated in financial aid to the entertainment fund, and that many clubs are eager to contribute. It was declared that Georgia Federation will proceed to the business of completing its contribution to this purpose as soon as the amount expected from Georgia and the part assigned to Georgia has been declared through official channels.

Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs was signally honored during the closing hours of the convention by having its name bestowed on the new main building at Tallulah Falls school.

This building is now being erected and is to be ready for use by Christmas, and will contain the auditorium, the library and the class rooms of the school plant. Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs recently successfully completed under the leadership of Mrs. T. Stevens, a campaign for the $20,000 which the building will cost.

The cornerstone will carry the name of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs.

Whisperings were heard through the convention when hearing its close that the next meeting place will be within the home district of the president, Mrs. Archibald P. Brantley, of Blackshear. This district is the 11th, and club leaders of Waycross and Valdosta are said to be engaged in plans for extending such an invitation to the council which will be held in 1925 in place of the customary annual convention.

Pastor Indicted For Leasing Land To Moonshiners

Rev. R. H. Folmar, of Savannah, Denies Complicity in Distilling on His Farm.

Savannah, Ga., November 14.—Rev. R. H. Folmar, pastor of the Fourth Baptist church, was indicted by the federal grand jury, which adjourned last night, in connection with moonshining on land alleged to have been owned by him in Bryan county.

It was learned here today. Reverend Folmar has been here about a year. He came to Savannah from Bryan county. It is understood his indictment is in connection with an alleged leasing of property used for moonshining purposes.

"It is malicious prosecution purely," he said. "There is absolutely no truth in the charge that I have been guilty in any way of violating directly or indirectly the national prohibition law. I had a man on my place in Bryan county two years ago, a worthless character, who was through my efforts, caught moonshining, and he has, I understand, made statements tending to connect me with his unlawful enterprises. But there is not a word of truth in what he says, and I court the fullest investigation and inquiry."

ADOLPH ROQUET DIES. He Was Husband of Mrs. Onezima DeBouchel.

New Orleans, November 14.—Adolph Roquet, insurance man, died here today. He was the husband of Mrs. Onezima DeBouchel, who more than a year ago lost a suit for $500,000 against Am. G. Candler, Atlanta capitalist, for breach of promise to marry, after a federal court jury there found her divorce from Roquet was not valid and that she was in fact still the wife of Roquet.

Immediately after the Atlanta verdict, Mrs. DeBouchel returned to New Orleans, where she had established residence, in another attempt to obtain a divorce. By August last, she had met the residential requirements of the state law for applying for a divorce, but she is said to have written friends in New Orleans that she had decided not to reenter her suit at that time.

Woman's Right to "Hit Pipe" Upheld by Dope Conference

REGULATION OF OPIUM DENS STIRS UP DEBATE

Geneva, November 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Whether women should be permitted to enter public opium dens in the far east formed the subject of a long debate at today's session of the international opium conference, and before the question was settled various speakers brought in the French revolution, the league of nations covenant, woman's rights, and the leadership of France and England as exponents of perfected civilization. Eventually the conference decided to omit the word "women" from the list of persons who should be excluded from opium smoking dens.

Incidentally, W. C. Antum, of Holland, president of the conference, ruled that it was undesirable in an agreement being framed by the conference to refer to opium smoking houses as "dens" because he thought the word "den" implied something iniquitous. He requested that places authorized in the convention be known as "public smokers" as a more proper term for such establishments as are under government control.

The French draft of the convention originally provided that entry to public opium smoking houses should be prohibited to Europeans, women and minors. China succeeded in having the word "European" deleted by contending that reference to Europeans involved racial discrimination against Asiatics because it implied that Europeans should not mix with Asiatics. Alfred Soe, Chinese minister to the United States, thought that such country could exclude Europeans, but that it would be best not to put the exclusion in cold type.

Japan led the campaign to remove the reference to women, basing its stand on the idea that the prohibition of women involved six discrimination. Supported by the Chinese delegation, M. Sugimura, chief of Japanese delegates, declared that when the French revolution proclaimed the rights of man it inferentially proclaimed the rights and equality of women.

Moreover, he said, the covenant of the league itself insisted on equality of treatment for men and women, and that while he did not want women to enter opium dens, it seemed to Japan most unfair in principle to exclude them.

The European delegates seemed nonplussed and M. Sugimura appealed to the chairmanship of France and England to stand for women's rights.

Replying to Japan, M. Clinchant, of France, declared he merely wanted to remark as a Frenchman that there was no historic relation between the French revolution and opium smoking. The question of excluding women was simply one of public decency and propriety, and whatever the conference decided France would continue to bar all women from smoking.

SPECIAL SESSION MAY BE CALLED SOME TIME IN JULY

Coolidge Definitely Vetoes Proposal To Call Congress Immediately After March 4.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Washington, November 14.—Definite announcement has been made at the white house that President Coolidge is opposed to calling the new congress just elected into extra session immediately after March 4.

This is the administration's answer to Senator Borah, who has urged that the new congress come in immediately after the present one expires and proceed to deal at once with tax revision, agricultural relief and railroad legislation.

The president does not regard railroad legislation nor agricultural relief as demanding immediate attention. As to tax revision, he feels that taxes cannot be reduced much more until the government expenses are reduced. He does not believe that the government will have the necessary information regarding expenditures and receipts upon which to base tax revision before the beginning of the next fiscal year in July. He might decide to call an extra session then, though there was no definite intimation on this point given out at the white house.

Vet Is Not General.
Some of those favoring an extra session point out that by the end of March the government will have fairly definite information regarding the possibilities of further tax reduction. By that time, the appropriation bills covering the fiscal year beginning July 1 will have been enacted, fixing the amount of expenditure that will have to be met.

On March 15, when the first income tax payments for the year are due, the government will be able to estimate with fair accuracy what the

29 RAILROADS FILE PETITION TO ESTOP FERTILIZER RATES

Temporary and Permanent Injunctions Asked To Restrain Enforcement of Rates Effective Today.

JUDGE SIBLEY LIKELY TO HEAR PLEA TODAY

Claim Made Public Service Commission Made Cut Without Considering Facts.

Basing their petition upon the claim that the Georgia public service commission has, "without evidence and without the consideration of facts," ordered a cut that will average 26 per cent on fertilizer and fertilizer materials moving between points wholly within the state of Georgia, 29 railroads, all except one of which are Georgia corporations, filed a petition in United States district court Friday afternoon in which temporary and permanent injunctions are asked to restrain the commission from enforcing the fertilizer rate as ordered effective today.

The petition of the railroads was filed through the law firm of Alston, Foster & Moore. Members of the law firm said it would be heard by Judge Samuel H. Sibley this morning.

Suit Is Two-Fold.

The petition was two-fold in nature, the first being in the form of a suit in equity and asking that an interlocutory injunction be granted against the defendant commission, and the second asking that a temporary injunction be ordered prohibiting enforcement of the new rates until the suit in equity can be heard by a three-judge tribunal.

An order was signed by the public service commission on September 26, setting forth the lower intrastate fertilizer rates that were to go into effect on and after November 15. The rates apply to fertilizers, fertilizer material and articles classified as taking fertilizer rates—between points wholly within the state of Georgia, and to be used and applied by each

ACTION OF BOYKIN RAPPED BY CUTTS

Savannah Cotton Man Surprised Civic Clubs Have Not Come to Defense of Exchange.

Declaring that Savannah cotton and business interests were in perfect sympathy with the Atlanta Commercial Exchange in its grievance against manner in which the raid against this institution was said to have been conducted by Solicitor General John Boykin and officials of his office, E. A. Cutts, head of the cotton firm of that name, and past imperial potentate of the Mystic Shrine, expressed wonderment Friday because the business and civic organizations of Atlanta had not stepped forward to lend their moral support to the exchange.

"I am speaking," declared Mr. Cutts, "in the name of my company, which is a member of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange, and which occupies an office in the Exchange building. I feel that the name of the exchange has been put up in shame before the eyes of Atlanta, the southeast and the whole United States. The institutions of the solicitor general that it is a gambling institution are outrageous."

Mr. Cutts declared he had the highest regard for the local institution, even though he admitted it had been instrumental in bringing important cotton business to Atlanta from Savannah.

"The Atlanta Commercial Exchange is an institution that has grown great favor not only in Atlanta, but in my home city and in every place where cotton business is handled," he added.

Mr. Cutts was bitter in his scolding of Mr. Boykin, declaring that the solicitor general had gone too far, and that he should step down from his present position.

Mr. Cutts came to Atlanta on business connected with his firm. He is a member of the Savannah Cotton Exchange, is a former director of that institution, and has served as president of the Kiwanis club, which he helped to establish in Savannah.

MRS. STEWART HIT BY VOLLEY FRED FROM AUTOMOBILE

Draketown Woman Is Brought to Atlanta Hospital, Where Little Hope for Recovery Is Held.

HUSBAND'S ABDUCTORS WERE FIRED ON BY HER

Shooting Is Outgrowth of Vigorous War Made by Rev. Stewart Upon Bootleggers of County.

BY LOY WARWICK, JR., Staff Correspondent.

Dallas, Ga., November 14.—Shot down Thursday night as she struggled with a band of alleged liquor runners who were attempting to abduct her husband, who is a Methodist preacher, Mrs. Robert Stewart, 35, lies dying at Wesley Memorial hospital. She was brought to Atlanta Friday morning with a bullet in the upper part of her spine and another wound in her right arm.

The shooting occurred in Draketown, a village near here, in Harrison county.

Tommy Carter, who lives near Draketown, was arrested Thursday night shortly after the shooting, and is held at Buchanan, Ga., on a charge of suspicion. Authorities refused to divulge how he is connected with the case.

Posse Hunting Assaults.
More than two-score men, headed by Sheriff George Richards, gathered in front of the Stewart's home about 1 o'clock this morning, preparatory to scouring the surrounding woods and hills for the men they believe to be Mrs. Stewart's assailants.

Rev. Mr. Stewart husband of the wounded woman, is a Methodist preacher who has gained a wide reputation for his sensational warfare on liquor-runners and rum-makers in this section of the country. It is believed the attempt to abduct him was made by liquor-runners who were affected by his activities. The preacher declares he recognized three of the men.

The story of the shooting, as told by Mr. Stewart and members of the sheriff's posse, follows:

Story of Shooting.
Thursday night, about 8 o'clock, three automobiles drove quietly into the little village. One of the men went into the store of John Reeves, which is located next door to the parsonage, and told Reeves that they wanted Mr. Stewart to accompany them on a "raid." Upon the request of the men, Reeves aroused Stewart, who had retired.

Reeves aroused Stewart, who returned to his bedroom to dress. The preacher then went out to the car, and was standing with one foot on the running board talking to the men, when he was seized from behind and thrown into the car. A gag was shoved into his mouth, while other men went about the business of binding his arms and feet.

Despite the fact that he was gagged, he was able to hear the men say:

BOOSTER CUBAN TOUR INDORSED BY CHAMBER

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has indorsed a Cuban tour for a delegation of Atlanta business men for the purpose of boosting Atlanta and stimulating trade between Cuba and Atlanta merchants and shippers. The proposed tour will begin January 3 and continue for a period of eight days. B. S. Baker, secretary of the Atlanta chamber, is exceedingly anxious that a representative delegation of Atlanta business men register for the trip, which will combine eight days of business, recreation and education. Four days of the tour will be spent on the island of Cuba visiting the markets, cigar factories and historic points of interest. Havana will be the central location of the party while on the island. Ample time will be given the party to advertise Georgia products in Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Key West and Havana. Chambers of Commerce of New Orleans, Greenville, S. C., and several other cities have made a trip to Cuba, and many orders to merchants and business men resulted. Birmingham is planning the same kind of tour in December. Reservations for the tour may be made by communicating with B. S. Baker, secretary of the Atlanta chamber.

MASSACHUSETTS BEATS BILL ON CHILD LABOR

Of interest to Georgians will be the information coming from Massachusetts to Secretary of State S. G. McLenndon to the effect that the people of that state overwhelmingly rejected the child labor amendment, which was voted on by the Georgia general assembly at its last session. According to Mr. McLenndon, who received a communication from H. P. Meikleham, of Lindale, representing a Massachusetts mill, the popular vote in that state on the proposed 20th amendment was 2,174,000 for the amendment and 626,000 against. The vote on the child labor amendment in the Georgia house of representatives was 3 for the amendment and 170 against while the Georgia senate voted unanimously against the amendment.

ELECTION RETURNS FROM 2 COUNTIES ARE STILL MISSING

Failure to receive returns from Elbert and Tattnall counties is holding up complete consolidation of the Georgia vote in the general election, according to Secretary of State McLenndon. Elbert county authorities have notified the secretary of state that the returns were mailed, but evidently were lost in the mail. New copies will be sent. The Tattnall returns have been held by order of Judge W. W. Shepard, who ordered them impounded pending the adjudication of a contest over the office of county sheriff. In a telephone conversation with the governor's office Friday morning, Judge Shepard indicated he would release the returns immediately.

ZINC SALES BREAK RECORD FOR YEAR

New York, November 14.—Unprecedented volume in zinc sales, totaling to the largest week's business so far this year, marked the metals market for the week. Engineering and Mining Journal-Press reports. Steady gain in prices featured each day's movement. The metal closed yesterday at 6.80, as against 6.575 for the close of business November 6. The 6.80 cents quotation is the highest reached by zinc since last March. An outstanding feature was a contract for the delivery of a large quantity of Prime Western over the 12 months of 1925, at a figure about 1-4 cent above market price on the day of the contract sale. Copper moved slowly and steadily to a higher level. Beginning Monday, the market became firmer and producers have definitely in obtaining 13.875 cents. Most of the sales were made for delivery through the balance of the year but a few were effected for shipment in January at 14 cents. The forward market moved above the prompt quotation, which yesterday was above 13 7/8 cents but below 14. Little change occurred in the lead market, which held firm. The St. Louis market was more active than New York, with common lead bringing from 8.40 to 8.80 cents a pound in the west. In Chicago, 8.90 cents was obtained for some metal. The largest quantities moving into consumption here were sold for 8.85. The foreign market continued strong, with prices rising daily. The world is practically bare of lead stocks, particularly abroad. All Mexican lead is being shipped to Europe, which is the most desirable market for shipments today.

319TH F. A. WILL HOLD ANNUAL REUNION TODAY

Members of the 319th field artillery, which was organized and trained at Camp Gordon during the war, under Colonel d'Arcy Pierce, of Georgia Tech, who carried the outfit overseas and brought it back at the cessation of hostilities, will hold a reunion in Atlanta today.

Many prominent out-of-town members will attend the affair, which will bring together members of the regiment. A luncheon will be given at noon at the Wincoff hotel, and at 7 o'clock tonight the annual banquet will be held at the Capital City club. The original colors of the regiment will be on display at the reunion.

Among the out-of-town members who have expressed their intention of attending the reunion are: Major Carlisle, executive officer; Staff Sergeant J. C. Wilson, of Augusta; Steve Mitchell, of Tifton; Frank Williams, of Forsyth; Alvin Tally, of Knoxville, and E. A. Williams, of Nashville, Tenn.

Among the Atlanta men who will attend the reunion are: J. L. R. Boyd, Ray Booker, J. D. Lockett and Herbert Kiser, chairman of the reunion committee.

JARDINE APPOINTED ON FARM COMMISSION

Washington, November 14.—William M. Jardine, president of Kansas Agriculture college, was appointed by President Coolidge today as an additional member of the president's agricultural commission. White house officials said his name was omitted from the original list of members through error.

This makes the total membership of the commission nine. Additional appointments may be made later. The commission will meet here for the first time on Monday.

FEDERAL AGENT FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL ROOM

Charleston, W. Va., November 14.—E. B. Manziez, of Hickory, N. C., a federal agent investigating narcotic law cases here, was found dead in his room in a hotel today. Death was due to a heart affliction or to drinking poison liquor, the authorities said after an investigation. Coroner J. D. Good said that while he believed Manziez died of heart failure, he would order a chemical analysis of the man's stomach.

Manziez was transferred to Charleston a few days ago from Parkersburg, W. Va.

INDIAN PRINCESS FREED ON CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

New York, November 14.—A grand larceny charge preferred against Miss Atalie Unkalunt Rider, Cherokee Indian concert singer, was dismissed today by Magistrate McAndrews. George H. Aislie, fifth avenue art dealer, and his daughter, Miss Lucie Benedict, alleged Miss Rider had stolen from them personal property valued at about $350.

BRUNSWICK MAN HELD ON CHARGE OF RUNNING RUM

Brunswick, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Deputy United States Marshal Stewart, of Savannah, arrived in Brunswick tonight, with a warrant for the arrest of E. M. Pearson, well-known Brunswick man, who was arrested today. Deputy Stewart will return to Savannah tomorrow morning with Pearson. His bond will be fixed at $10,000, it was stated.

Pearson, it is understood, is to be charged with assisting in transporting whiskey from steamships beyond the 12-mile limit to the local wharves, where it was loaded aboard freight cars and shipped as "lumber."

FRUIT GROWERS RAP GOVERNMENT REPORTS

Atlantic City, N. J., November 13. Government reports dealing with the fruit growers of the country were declared grossly exaggerated in a resolution adopted by the American Pomological society today, and it was urged that statistics be obtained from reliable sources so that the reports would collect facts rather than the hopes of the growers.

Another resolution calls for more uniform and better packing and grading of fruits, so that the public will be able to know just what the packages contain.

De Pachmann Plays Himself Into Hearts of Audience

Vladimir de Pachmann, aged, bent, his face wrinkled like that of some old man, played "his" way straight into the hearts of his audience at the auditorium last night.

Eccentric he may be. Whimsical and egotistical he certainly is. But those who smiled at his mannerisms and laughed at his impromptu remarks were the first to applaud his music, and at the end of the program there were few who left their seats. For they wanted to hear more of those de Pachmann runs which James Huneker had described as "pearls—hot pearls—on velvet."

Possibly de Pachmann is a great technician, but one does not think of that when he is playing. It seems so easy to him that even the student forgets the difficulties of the music. His program was finely suited to his style—none of the thunders of the last Chopins, no smashing chords which threaten to rip the piano asunder. There was a majestic concerto by Bach and the fine fantasia in C minor of Mozart, and then de Pachmann reached what the audience most desired to hear—the group of Chopin.

No one ever has played Chopin quite as de Pachmann plays him. The softness of sound, the silver bell quality, the ethereal tones which barely are heard, are almost beyond belief.

After the Chopin group came the Schumann "Nachstück," a Liszt "Eclogue" and a Brahms rhapsody, the last named the only "fireworks" number on the program.

But the audience demanded more, and de Pachmann responded with a brief bit, and when his admirers refused to go after that, he trotted across the stage and played the Chopin "Minute Waltz," the only widely familiar number of the evening—and that perhaps most familiar because its melody was lifted bodily to form the song hit of a recent musical comedy. De Pachmann played it with remarkable effect, his fingers moving with almost incredible rapidity, so that the succession of staccato notes blended into one.

Those in the front of the house enjoyed to the utmost de Pachmann's chats with them and with himself. He would turn to the audience and announce the movements "allegro," "prestinissimo," "con amore," as if he were giving a lesson to a class, and frequently he would discuss the nature of the next number. Once he illustrated "how other pianists would play this," and then "how I play it," the comedian of the piano. But even they have admitted that he is right in declaring himself a very great artist. RALPH T. JONES.

GRIER IS INDICTED ON BRIBERY COUNT IN LIQUOR CASES

Savannah, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Clark Grier, of Atlanta and Augusta, today was indicted by the federal grand jury here on a charge of accepting bribes from Savannah liquor interests while in the employ of the government. He made bond for $3,000. Grier declared he has no fear of the outcome, that there is no truth in the charge and that he will not be convicted.

He was also indicted on nine counts charging fraud. He is alleged to have offered to have parties appointed enforcement officers for the sum of $500, claiming to have been commissioned to appoint 11 such officers in Georgia.

Clark Grier has long been prominent in republican politics in Georgia. He was recognized as one of the most influential members of the John L. Phillips faction before it was dethroned by the Henry Lincoln Johnson faction.

It has been reported that Grier was in sympathy with the men who recently brought charges of irregularities in the collection of campaign funds against Dr. W. Y. Gilliam and W. R. Tucker, chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the Georgia republican state central committee.

F. Marion Thomason lodged the formal charges against Gilliam and Tucker, which led to a fist fight and the issuance of a warrant for Gilliam on charges of assault and battery, but Grier is known to have been in sympathy with Thomason. Members of the opposite political faction credited the origin of the charges to the man who has now been indicted by the Augusta federal grand jury.

BURIAL IN M'DONOUGH FOR MRS. SMITH TODAY

The body of Mrs. S. O. Smith, who died at her home in Saratoga, N. Y., on September 7, will be brought to Georgia today for interment at McDonough Sunday, where funeral services will also be held at the residence of Hugh Hutton, Rev. Marvin Williams officiating. She is survived by two children, Mrs. P. C. Thomas, of Saratoga, N. Y., and Dr. Harmon Smith, of New York city.

3 WARRANTS ISSUED FOR TIGERS' SLAYERS

Cleveland, Ohio, November 14.—Secret warrants for three men charged with the murder of Louis Rosen, 29, Cleveland, and his brother-in-law, Adolph Adelson, 28, Philadelphia, were obtained this morning by Detective Charles Cavola from Police Prosecutor Stachel. Rosen and Adelson were shot and killed yesterday.

Detective Cavola just before obtaining the warrants, brought three men into headquarters as prisoners, but would not admit they were the men for whom the warrants were issued.

Added significance was given the warrants when Captain of Detective Cornelius Cody at about the same time released thirteen of fourteen suspects so far under scrutiny. The fourteenth man held, a former alleged "bootleg" associate of Rosen, was put under espionage, but permitted to go to his home.

New York and the "rum fleet" off the 12-mile limit became figures in the quest for the slayers of Rosen and Adelson today as police there were asked by Cleveland police to search for the Atlantic coast alcohol purchasing agent of Rosen, alleged bootleg ring-leader here.

Rosen and his reported "bootleg" pool in the east had quarreled, according to word reaching police, over the division of profits. In this connection police advanced the possibility of hired gunmen in the case.

Police today continued their search for the touring car in which the slayer band fled from the murder scene.

BODY OF GEORGIAN MANGLED BENEATH COAST LINE TRAIN

Albany, Ga., November 14.—D. S. Knox, 35, unmarried, who for several years has been employed by Dougherty county as a truck driver, was killed instantly at Acree, 11 miles east of here, by incoming Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 96, from Brunswick, due here at 12:40 this afternoon. Knox's body was cut to pieces.

HOLD LAST SERVICES FOR REV. WINN TODAY

Decatur, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Rev. William Winn, well-known Decatur minister, who died following a heart attack at his home, 317 Sycamore street, in Decatur, late Thursday, will be held at the First Methodist church here Saturday at 10:30 o'clock.

Although he had retired from active service in the church twelve years ago, he was in good health, and his death was a shock to his many friends. Before he retired from service he had been in service for 42 years, and had served important charges in Georgia and Alabama.

Rev. Winn had served in the vicinity of Jonesboro, Warrenton, Jackson and Forsyth. Four ministers, who were personal friends of the deceased, will officiate. They are: Dr. Elam F. Demsey, Dr. W. H. LaPrade, president of the North Atlanta district; Rev. G. M. Eakes, pastor of the First Methodist church of Decatur, and Rev. J. R. King. Interment will be at Lawrenceville, Ga.

PAXON NAMED CHIEF OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

Election of Colonel Frederick J. Paxon as president, and reading of financial reports were features of a meeting of stockholders of the Southeastern Fair association held Friday at the chamber of commerce.

E. Marvin Underwood, first vice president of the chamber, presided at the meeting. A nominating committee composed of Mel R. Wilkinson, Ivan Allen and H. G. Hastings, presented the name of Colonel Paxon as president for the 1925 fair season.

Colonel Paxon was unanimously elected to a board of directors. He announced that the board would be appointed today. J. Oscar Mills was elected first vice president.

Financial reports showed that citizens of Atlanta and Georgia patronized the 1924 fair in October more than ever before.

Resolutions expressing appreciation of the services of Oscar Mills, retiring president, were adopted. A similar resolution was adopted expressing thanks to R. M. Striplin, secretary.

PARK SELECTION TO BE MADE SOON AFTER NOVEMBER 20

Washington, November 14.—A committee appointed by Secretary Work to select a site for the first large national park to be established in the east, returned here today after a week's tour of the Blue Ridge mountains in Virginia. The committee, composed of national park experts, will leave tomorrow for an inspection trip in the Great Smoky mountains of Tennessee. The members are scheduled to return to Washington November 20, and their choice is expected to be announced shortly thereafter.

New Dance Code For Hi Students Bans 'Dime' Steps

New Britain, Conn., November 14.—A written code setting forth the manner in which students must dance has been issued by the faculty of the New Britain high school.

It requires that: "One—The young woman is not to have her arms around her partner's neck.

"Two—The young woman is not to have her arm around her partner's side: that is her arm should not be extended to the middle of her partner's back. The young man's right arm must be above his partner's waist.

"Three—The posture involving the concave appearance of the young woman's back is to be avoided.

"Four—The practice known as 'shimmying' is forbidden.

"Five—Dancing that is confined to a small portion of the floor is forbidden.

"Six—The practice known as 'cutting-in' is forbidden.

"It should also be remembered that, at evening dances, no one is allowed, except by special permission, to leave the building and return."

Principal Louis P. Slade promised that these instructions would be read to the student body and posted on bulletin boards in class rooms and corridors.

Proposed consolidation of the office of city marshal with that of tax assessor, and of the plumbing inspector with the chief of construction, probably will be considered at a meeting of the special committee of city council, scheduled to meet at noon today.

Other matters to come before the committee include changes in arrangements of city hall office spaces, and also consolidation and elimination of several committees of council.

While a report will be made to council next Monday, it probably will not deal with consolidation of any offices, it was stated Friday by Councilman John A. White, chairman of the committee.

Among proposed changes of office locations which probably will be recommended to council, is moving of the office of city warden to the third floor in the space now occupied by the city electrician, and moving of the electrician into the office now used by the marshal.

It also is probable that the committee will recommend transfer of the department which now handles street numbers, located in the office of chief of construction, to the planning commission's office on the fourth floor.

EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE ENDS AT THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—The conference of St. Thomas' Episcopal parish closed tonight with an address by Dr. McKinstry, of New York, general field worker of the Episcopal church. An address was made last night by Dr. Cronhart, of Savannah. Mrs. Reel, of Waycross, addressed women of the church this morning.

Conferences have been held in Albany, Valdosta and other towns in the diocese of Georgia and are in the interest of the nation-wide campaign of the church.

Representatives from churches at Bainbridge and Moultrie attended the conference here.

LOCAL PLUMBERS HOLD REORGANIZATION MEET

An address by H. E. Longley, of Wilmington, N. C., vice president of the National Association of Master Plumbers, featured the reorganization meeting of the Atlanta Association of Master Plumbers held today night in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Longley told of the work being done by the national association in standardization of the national plumbing code, which has been approved by the Secretary of Commerce Hoo r. He also pointed out how the association had set aside a fund for scholarships for sons of plumbers.

Mrs. S. S. Shepherd, president of the woman's auxiliary of the Atlanta association, presented to the association "The Story of the Bath," a book which has been approved and adopted for study in the Atlanta public schools.

Other speakers on the program included John R. Lewis, of the Publication ers' Trade Journal, whose subject was "Business Ideas"; A. F. W. Terfield, manager of the American company, Atlanta district; S. S. Shepherd, president of the Atlanta Association of Master Plumbers; Dr. John J. Leonard, D. A. Farrell, representative of the national association, and Alfred Belingrath, who told several witty stories and recited some poems.

Entertainment was furnished by members of the quartet of the Georgia Railway & Power company.

GIBSON IS ROBBED BY TWO NEGRO MEN

L. A. Gibson, of 245 Atlanta avenue, was held up and robbed of $80 in cash and his watch by two unidentified negro men who assailed him while he was returning home on Atlanta avenue late Friday night, according to his story to police.

The same description of two other negroes who have perpetrated hold-ups of similar nature in the last few weeks, police says.

Aztecs and Indians alike appear to have cherished the turquoise as the finest of all gems.

AGNES SCOTT TO HEAR MERCER CLUB TONIGHT

Decatur, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Mercer's Glee and Instrumental club will appear in a program of music and fun at Agnes Scott college at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night. The club is composed of 40 students and is said to be the best ever put out by Mercer. This is the first organization to play at Agnes Scott campus this season.

Three divisions of the program will divide it into a "Reminon on the Campus of the Boys of '25," "Musical Bits of '25," featuring Mercer's Ten Clubs of Rhythm and "The Glee Club in Turkey."

MERCER GLEE CLUB TO ARRIVE MONDAY. The Mercer Glee and Minstrel club will present its minstrel show and a special musical program at the women's club Monday night under the auspices of the Colonial Guards, Knights of America. The performance is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Members of the club, forty in number, will arrive in the city Saturday night. On Sunday several of the club and soloists from the Mercer aggregation will render programs at various Atlanta churches.

Tickets are on sale at the Piano company.

Woman in Georgia Youngest Pensioner On 1812 War Roll

Washington, November 14.—Mrs. Mahala Huff, 105, is the oldest pensioner on the government roll and is one of the 29 surviving widows of veterans of the war of 1812. She lives in Louisa, Ky., and is the widow of James Huff, who was a private in the Virginia militia.

Figures announced today by the pension bureau disclose that the number of widow pensioners of this war has decreased in the past 15 months from 41 to 29. Ages of most of the others range from 80 to 95.

The youngest is Mrs. Arminia I. Anderson, 64, of Cedar Grove, Ga.

Most everybody who uses Wesson Oil in French dressing or mayonnaise votes it their favorite salad oil.

Gifted cooks with a sufficiently adventurous spirit to try a liquid fat instead of hard fat as shortening, report cake, biscuit and pie crust of amazing goodness.

We never heard of a woman who fried anything in Wesson Oil who didn't enthusiastically declare Wesson Oil the finest frying fat she ever used.

Wouldn't it be fine for everybody who likes good things to eat, as well as for the Wesson Oil people, if we could have a National Convention of Good Cooks and exchange ideas?

Walker Proclaims November 17 to 24 As Education Week

Georgians are called upon to observe "National Education Week" November 17-24. In a proclamation issued Friday afternoon by Governor Clifford Walker, the chief executive, in the proclamation, appeals to the various civic and religious organizations and the people-at-large in the state to cooperate with the Georgia Education Commission in its efforts to make the state as a whole as good as the best of the nation.

In connection with national education week, the Georgia Education Commission has sent out letters to the judges of superior courts in the state, requesting that in their charges to the grand juries, the judges commend to them the campaign to educate adults and to cite the act of the 1920 general assembly, authorizing the counties of the state to make appropriations for the education of adults.

The judges are asked also to select a chairman to form a committee of patriotic citizens in each county to cooperate with the county school superintendent and school authorities, and to ask joint action of all public welfare organizations to reach as many illiterates in the separate counties as is possible.

The commission has found that a single adult may be taught to read and write at a cost of $2.50, this being called a scholarship. Certificates are issued as a token of appreciation to all persons contributing this amount to the cause.

The Coca-Cola company, at its own expense, has had printed 50,000 copies of the textbook written by Dr. M. L. Brittain and turned over to the illiteracy commission for its use in teaching illiterates, it was stated.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS THREATEN INJUNCTION

Efforts of the 122d Infantry Georgia national guard, to oust Spanish war veterans from quarters used by the latter in the auditorium may result in court action if the auditorium committee of city council decides to grant the guardsmen's request, it was indicated Friday.

The councilman committee deferred decision pending further investigation after a spirited public hearing Friday morning, at which members of Fitzhugh Lee camp No. 50, United Spanish War Veterans, and officers of the national guard regiment, the claim and counter-claims, charges and counter-charges.

In support of the national guard's petition for exclusive use of the auditorium, Adjutant General Charles Cox contended that the building was erected to provide a place for grand opera and furnish suitable space for an army for the national guard.

He also claimed that the city is morally bound to give the national guard exclusive use of the armory, as that was one of the conditions on which the government sanctioned reorganization of the national guard regiment here a year ago. A city ordinance also provides that the building shall be for the use of the national guard, he stated.

Other speakers for the national guard included B. S. Barker, secretary of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Basil Stockbridge, an officer in the regiment. They explained that the regiment has 1,271 members, and that the use of the entire armory is essential to proper functioning of the unit.

John Chalmers, commander of the Fitzhugh-Lee camp, charged the guardsmen with selfish motives in seeking to eject the Spanish war veterans. He said that the national guard regiment is given $745 monthly by the state and county with which to pay rent for quarters, whereas the veterans of the Spanish war are given nothing for that purpose, and depriving them of their quarters would work an extreme hardship.

Threatens Injunction. Spokesmen for the Spanish war veterans also charged that the city ordinance dealing with the matter is no longer valid, as it referred to the old fifth regiment of national guard, and became obsolete when all national guard units in Georgia were disbanded in 1917.

Mr. Chalmers stated that his organization will bring injunction proceedings if the auditorium committee decides in favor of the national guard, and that the Spanish war veterans are prepared for a final fight on the matter.

JEAN VIGOROUX
IS FOUND GUILTY
IN FRENCH COURT

Paris, November 14.—(By The Associated Press.)—Jean Vigoroux, who had been on trial for several days charged with breach of trust in connection with his duties as representative in New York for the late Joseph Demotte, an art dealer, was found guilty today in the assizes court.

The jury found there were extenuating circumstances. Vigoroux, who had charged that various art objects he had sold in the United States for Demotte, were spurious, was sentenced to one month in jail and to pay a fine of 25 francs and $3,775 as damages to the Demotte family.

The jury refused to believe that spurious antiques were manufactured by Demotte and in the court room the finding was regarded as a vindication of the judgment of the American art purchasers.

NEW CREAM LIBERATES
CHLORINE FOR COLDS

New Haven, Conn., November 14.—Chlorine gas treatment for colds in head will be made easily attainable, it was stated at a meeting of the eye, ear, nose and throat specialists of Connecticut in convention here.

C. C. Spaulding, formerly lecturer on pharmacy at the Yale medical school, told of perfection of a cream containing a chemical which gradually liberates chlorine in a non-irritating form and in sufficient quantity to kill any non-sporing bacteria in the nose.

REAL ESTATE TALK DELIVERED BY ORME

Real estate, apartment house bonds and explanation of the idea of bonding large structures were fully discussed by A. J. Orme, vice president of the Atlanta Trust company, in an address before the City club weekly luncheon meeting Friday in the gray room of the Piedmont hotel. Joel Hunter, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Supreme Court of Ga.
Judgments Affirmed.

Or v. James, clerk, etc.; from Ware superior court—Judge Graham. Little, Powell, Smith & Goldstein, Blalock & Blalock, W. A. Wood, S. F. Memory, for plaintiffs. Wilson, Bennett, Parker & Parker, Parks, Reed & Garrett, for defendants.

Landrum v. Landrum; from Floyd city court—Judge Rife. F. W. Corneal, John Camp Davis, for plaintiff in error. Harris & Harris, contra.

LEGINSKA TO BAR, ALL FAT SINGERS FROM HER OPERA

Berlin, November 14.—The Tetrazzini, Destinnis and Leo Slezaka will have to sit modestly in the orchestra pit, singing their parts as though they were solo flutes or bassoons, while the Pickfords, Talmadges and Valentinos will act on the stage, when the new opera by Ethel Leginska, New York pianist, composer and orchestra conductor, is produced.

Miss Leginska, who within the past two months has surprised prejudiced critics by conducting world-famous orchestras in Munich, London, Paris and Berlin in a manner acknowledged to be superior to many male conductors, is producing the opera, "The King," which she has written for the stage, throwing out his hands dramatically in the stiffest fashion of by-gone times, just because he is so well? I want good actors in the stage for my opera and good singers in the orchestra.

CUDAHAY MANAGERS
FINISH CONFERENCE

Discussions of general business conditions and formulation of a program for the ensuing year featured a two-day meeting of managers of the Cudahy Packing company, from the south-eastern territory, Wednesday and Thursday, T. D. Body, of Atlanta, presided at the meetings.

The business outlook for the ensuing year is bright, Mr. Body stated, after hearing reports from representatives of Georgia and Florida agencies of the company.

Among those present at the meetings were E. L. Sanders, of Birmingham; W. D. Lawton, of Chattanooga; W. C. Wilson, of Greenville; A. J. Buist, of Jacksonville; G. E. Robertson, of Macon; J. H. Boman, of Montgomery; A. L. Wesson, of Savannah; C. W. Brown, of Tampa, and D. M. Irwin, of Atlanta.

Claims City Morally Bound.

He also claimed that the city is morally bound to give the national guard exclusive use of the armory, as that was one of the conditions on which the government sanctioned reorganization of the national guard regiment here a year ago. $150,000 COUNTY HIGH IS ASSURED NEXT FALL

Assurance that the new $150,000 Fulton county high school will be ready for occupancy next fall was given Friday, when the county school board voted approval of the price placed on the Washington street-Woodward avenue site and authorized immediate consummation of purchase of the property.

Practically an entire block, bounded by Washington street, Woodward avenue and Brown place, will be used as school property. It cost $80,000, according to announcement of board members. Of that amount, $45,000 will be paid the city for Beall park, while $44,000 will be used to purchase adjoining property.

Bids on a modern and thoroughly equipped building will be advertised for at once, and work of clearing the site and of the property will be started immediately in order to make it possible to begin excavating as soon as contracts are awarded.

The building now used as a county high school, located at Whitehall street and Trinity avenue, has no playground, and classroom accommodations and other facilities are declared to be inadequate. A special tax of 10 mills, in addition to the regular school tax, was voted last year by the county commission, and will be sufficient to pay for the site and erect the new building.

Damages Are Denied
To Man Who Was Hurt
After Strike Settlement

The Georgia court of appeals, in a decision handed down Friday, relieved corporations of liability for damages which might result to strikers after the settlement of a strike.

The case arose when Stanfield, according to the decision, was employed by the Seaboard Air Line railway during the strike of August and September, 1922, and was promised protection at his work. After settlement of the strike and after the guards were removed, the decision said, he was attacked and beaten. He sued the railroad for damages.

The jury refused to award him damages. Judge Freeman, of the Savannah city court, denied a motion for a new trial, and the court of appeals in its decision affirmed the judge of the lower court.

CHARGES BOYKIN IS 'FEE GRABBER'

Solicitor General John A. Boykin was denounced as a "fee grabber" because of alleged hasty action in the indictment of Mrs. Lucille Oldham, of New Orleans, on a charge of larceny after trust, by a member of the Argonne Post No. 1, American Legion, at the meeting Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce building.

The Oldham indictment was brought up by executives of the post, who said a telegram had been received from the New Orleans American Legion post, asking the local post to aid Mrs. Oldham, a gold star mother, in her fight in the courts of Fulton county. Mrs. Oldham is a member of the woman's auxiliary of the legion in New Orleans and is known there in club circles.

Solicitor Boykin was also denounced by the members of the post for alleged indictment of rehabilitation students of Georgia Tech for operating a gambling house. His action in both cases was declared to be too hasty.

A member of the post, who is a lawyer, asserted that in the Oldham case he had aided the New Orleans woman in getting the indictment postponed and that in all probability the case would be dropped. Another member of the post offered a resolution which was adopted, thanking the New Orleans post for its interest in aiding a gold star mother.

After much discussion of the subject, the post decided that it would not take any definite action in the case until additional data could be obtained.

The following officers were elected: Commander, William Simon; senior vice commander, F. B. Saunders; junior vice commander, Charles M. Gallienne, Jr.; finance officer, A. H. Duggan; historian, Miss Elizabeth Grimes; chaplain, Rev. Miller, of Fort McPherson. Ten members to comprise the executive board of the local post were also elected. They are: J. H. Ables, E. M. Boyer, D. J. Meyerhardt, Frank Kempton, Evan P. Howell, J. L. Harrison, Dr. R. C. Ewe, P. P. Brown, B. P. Gambrell and James L. R. Boyd.

The dues to the past were raised to $5 per year by resolution of the members.

SLUTH CAPTURED WIFE'S AFFECTION INSTEAD OF THIEF

Chicago, November 14.—George Ford was indicted when burglars robbed his Oak Park home last April, but he is more indignant now, for his wife is missing and Ford believes that the police detective he summoned to capture the burglars captured Mrs. Ford's affection instead.

Simultaneously with Mrs. Ford's disappearance, the handsome detective, Sergeant Thure Lindhe, also disappeared. Ford says that his wife told him that she was in love with Lindhe, and that his wife "cannot come back even if she repents."

New York Court Uses Own 'Sense' After Hill Case

New York, November 14.—Close on the heels of the acquittal of Congressman John Philip Hill in Baltimore, a federal court here has freed New York hotel men from the danger of another extreme system of prosecution under the Volstead act.

Three officials of a better-class hotel on Broadway were discharged by United States Commissioner John N. Boyle Friday when arraigned on a charge of "knowingly maintaining a nuisance in violation of the Volstead act" which grew out of the arrest of two waiters for selling liquor on the hotel roof garden.

There was no evidence that the officials knew anything about the liquor sale, and Boyle characterized the charge as "having no scintilla of evidence."

"As a matter of common sense," he said, "I am compelled to discharge you, gentlemen."

Some time ago, prohibition officials here threatened to close up all hotels where employees were found to have sold liquor.

Colombus Ga., November 14.—E. G. Abbott, of Columbus, this afternoon was elected president of the Georgia State Association of Civitan Clubs in fourth annual convention here. The Civitans voted to hold their 1925 session in Macon after a spirited contest between that city and Savannah.

Other officers of the association were elected as follows:

Dr. J. A. Thomas, Savannah, first vice president; A. O. E. Burks, Macon, second vice president; E. L. Reinhardt, Calhoun, third vice president.

ABBOTT IS NAMED TO HEAD CIVITANS

The following were named members of the board of trustees: Arthur Jackson, Barnesville; B. C. Broyles, Atlanta; D. C. Cooper, Lafayette; George Allen, Marietta; John D. Taylor, Summerville, and Lamar Westcott, Dalton.

The secretary-treasurer, who is expected to be a Columbus man, will be appointed by the new president within the next few days.

The Civitan convention opened here this morning with a business session. Another was held this afternoon. A banquet and dance featured tonight's program. The visitors will be shown over the city tomorrow morning and during the afternoon they will be the guests of the Columbus Civitan club at the Georgian Auburn football game.

Stockton Broome, of Jacksonville, Fla., International Civitan president, is attending the convention.

WILLIAM B. SMITH DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

William B. Smith, 42, of 311 East Pine street, died early Friday night, after a short illness.

Mr. Smith had been a resident of Atlanta for the past ten years and at the time of his death was one of the buying agents for the Atlanta branches of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company. He had been connected with this firm for the past year. He was formerly connected with the National Biscuit company and with the Rogers Grocery company of this city.

He is survived by two brothers, C. T. Smith, of Bogart, Ga., and Lanyer Smith, of Atlanta, and two half-sisters, Mrs. Mark Johnson of Carleton, Ga., and Mrs. Charles Hammond of Comer, Ga.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Awtrey & Lowndes, funeral directors, in charge.

SUPREME COURT
UPHOLDS CHANGE IN COUNTY SEAT

Constitutionality of the act removing the Brantley county seat from Hoboken to Nabunna was upheld by the state supreme court Friday.

A special election was held in June, 1923, in the recently created county of Brantley to submit to the voters a proposal to move the county seat from Hoboken to Nabunna. The act, which was passed by the general assembly, was favored by a two-thirds majority of the voters of the new county.

The validity of the change and the constitutionality of the act providing for the change were questioned by certain citizens of the county, but the presiding judge in the superior court of Brantley denied a petition to prevent consummation of the transfer.

ACCUSED NEGRESS WILL BE INDICTED IN MURDER CASE

Investigators working on the murder of J. L. Arendale, aged night watchman, who was slain Saturday night, on Highland avenue, planned to present the evidence already amassed against Pearl Booth, negress, to the Fulton county grand jury next week. At the same time it was announced that scopolamine would not be administered to the prisoner as was thought Thursday.

Pearl Booth, the negress arrested by a raiding party several days ago, is believed to have committed the murder, detectives pointing out that the presence of the watch of the aged man, found in her house, together with a blood-stained hammer and bloody sweater link her with the crime.

Investigators stated Thursday that, although the negress was defiant and disclaimed any knowledge of the crime, evidence tended to show her guilt, and a decision was reached to give her "truth" serum. This idea has been abandoned.

100 GALLONS CORN
OBTAINED FRIDAY
BY COUNTY AGENTS

County police Friday morning confiscated about 100 gallons of corn liquor when Carl Poor and another man, whose name was not divulged, were taken into custody just outside of the city limits.

Poor's car attracted attention of officers as it was being driven toward the city. He was halted, questioned and later arrested. Eighty gallons of whiskey were found in his car.

Later the same officers found a deserted truck loaded with vegetables and whiskey, parked on the Marietta road. The vegetables and 18 gallons of whiskey were confiscated, along with the truck.

JAP COMMUNIST
SLAIN FOR ATTEMPT TO KILL HIROHITO

Tokio, November 15.—Daisuke Namba, the young Japanese who attempted to assassinate the Prince Regent Hirohito in December, 1923, was executed for his crime at 8 o'clock this morning.

Namba was a communist.

The popular name given to the small round feet of the Chinese women is "lotus."

College Deans Say Student Vice Report Is Bunk

Boston, November 14.—"Your report is bunk," was what the investigating intercollegiate student committee that announced gambling, drinking and immorality was rampant in student communities of greater Boston heard Friday from college authorities.

Believe it or not, members of faculties of this city's leading colleges are denying the aid of the student committee by the student committee as guilty of vice of nearly every description.

The college officials term the committee's charges as "gross exaggerations," "unfounded rumors" and "fantastical bosh."

Dean T. Lawrence Davis, of the Boston University college of practical arts, said:

"It seems absurd to me that anyone who has any common sense would believe the reports being made and circulated and exaggerated by some people concerning students in the Bay State district."

Believe it or not, members of faculties of this city's leading colleges are denying the aid of the student committee by the student committee as guilty of vice of nearly every description.

The college officials term the committee's charges as "gross exaggerations," "unfounded rumors" and "fantastical bosh."

PASSENGER IS GUILTY
If Auto Contains Liquor, Court Rules

If a passenger in an automobile knows that liquor is in the car and makes no effort either to get rid of it or get away from the liquor, he is guilty of transporting liquor, according to a decision handed down Friday by the Georgia supreme court.

The court, according to the evidence in the case, had accepted a ride from the Washington Country club to his home. Police stopped the car and found a charge of vice in some liquor found in the car and the passenger. Both were convicted of transporting liquor. The higher court affirmed the conviction of Hebbard.

JEWELRY AUCTIONEER FINED $200 BY COURT

James Mann, jewelry auctioneer, doing business at 41 Peachtree street, was fined $200 Friday morning in court for violating a city ordinance regulating the sale of jewelry at auction.

This was the heaviest fine imposed in court for many years and brought notice of appeal from the defendant.

The ordinance calls for the plain marking and labeling of the value and of the maker of the jewelry sold at auction.

PASTOR'S WIFE SHOT BY LIQUOR RUNNERS

Continued From First Page.

Mr. Stewart succeeded in attracting the attention of Reeves. The latter started to his assistance, shotgun in hand, when Mrs. Reeves seized him and prevented him from leaving the store.

Mrs. Stewart to Rescue.

At this juncture, Mrs. Stewart, still in her night clothing, ran out of the house and into the midst of the men who were struggling with her husband. She fired two shots with her husband's revolver. One man staggered and fell. Another groped at the side of the car and lunged inside.

Then another shot rang out from a car behind Mrs. Stewart, who plunged forward on her face. Her husband says that one of the men fired a bullet into her foot and she lay prostrate upon the ground.

CERAMIC BUILDING DEDICATED TODAY

The first ceramic building south of the Ohio river this morning will be officially opened at Georgia Tech when Professor A. S. Watts, head of the ceramic department of Ohio State university, makes his address on "Ceramic Industry in Georgia."

The address will be the outstanding feature of the exercises, followed by a luncheon given by Dr. M. L. Brittain to 50 prominent ceramic engineers of the south.

In addition to the ceramic experts of the south, many prominent educators have written Dr. Brittain of their intention to be present. Among them is Chancellor Kirkland, a Vanderbilt University. Due to the funeral of Dean Emerson, the exercises have been delayed to 12 o'clock.

Courses at Georgia Tech

Ceramic instruction at Georgia Tech was accomplished through support given by the institution by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and Fulton county. The largest contract of all, calling for paving of 6,148 square yards on Woodward avenue between Cherokee avenue and Hill street, was held up until the next meeting of the committee.

The committee recommended that the contract for paving of 2,700 square yards on Weyman avenue, between Ridge and Capitol avenues, be awarded to the McDougald Construction company. The largest contract of all, calling for paving of 6,148 square yards on Woodward avenue between Cherokee avenue and Hill street, was held up until the next meeting of the committee.

The equipment laboratory is provided with balances, ball mills, molds, electric dryer, electric oxidation furnace, a modulus of rupture testing machine and complete microscopic equipment.

In the clay machinery room may be found an emery wheel, jaw crusher, dry pan, pulverizer, roller, pug mill, turning lathe, potter's wheel, jigger and complete semi-commercial clay washer. The kiln room equipment consists of two experimental gas-fired kilns using induced draft; a pot furnace, a small muffle test furnace, a gas-fired dryer, potentiometer and recording pyrometer.

Completing of the new building by the state of Georgia will enable students to combine the theoretical and practical aspects of ceramic engineering. Georgia contains vast beds of ceramic materials, including clays, kaolins, hexatiles, feldspars, sands, cement rock and fillers' earths, and special inspection trips have been arranged by the department for juniors and seniors.

FAVORITISM CHARGED IN BUYING SWEEPER

Over the protest of the Austin Machinery company, of Atlanta, in which Chinese residents in far eastern colonies charged that they had not received fair treatment on bids for two street sweepers to be purchased by the city, the sanitarian committee of city council Friday voted to deny the Austin company the privilege of shipping a sweeper here to be tested on Atlanta streets.

The Elgin Machinery company, of Elgin, Ill., already has been given permission to place a street sweeper on city streets on a 30-day trial here, with the understanding that the machines will be purchased at the end of that time if their work is satisfactory.

The Elgin machines already are on the way here, members of the committee were told, and will be assembled and put into operation within a short time.

Representatives of the Austin company requested that award of any contract be held up until after thorough inspection of the machines, and both machines had been completed. It was claimed that the finance committee refused to appoint a subcommittee to inspect work of Austin machines in several Florida cities, and that the same committee also refused the Austin people an opportunity to place their machines here, although they extended that privilege to the Elgin company.

Kennedy Predicts Pasteurized Milk Only for Atlanta

"Atlanta eventually will see its way clear to use nothing but pasteurized milk," declared Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, in making a report to the sanitary committee of city council Friday on his trip to the convention of the American Public Health association, held last month in Detroit.

Dr. Kennedy told the committee of important facts brought out at the convention, and recited observations gleaned from inspection of pasteurization plants in Detroit and Cincinnati, made in connection with the trip.

"No milk other than pasteurized and a small amount of certified has been used in Cincinnati since 1914, he said. That city has 44 pasteurization plants, and he stated, and it is impossible for any pasteurized milk to become impure or contaminated, as it is touched by no other milk after it is pasteurized until it reaches the consumer."

"Some milk is pasteurized in Atlanta at the present time," Dr. Kennedy declared, "but it is only the worst quality and no process can make good milk out of bad milk. Pasteurization does not change the taste of another house in Delham."

Dr. Kennedy also told of scarlet fever tests made at the convention, and described a serum which provided absolute immunity, and which, he said, soon will be placed on the market.

5 PAVING CONTRACTS ARE RECOMMENDED

Award of paving contracts for five Atlanta streets, totaling $225,331, were recommended Friday by the streets committee of city council. All recommendations will be presented to council for approval next Monday.

Three of the contracts, calling for extra vibratory concrete paving, were awarded to Jamison & Hollowell, while the other two, on which asphalt on macadam base will be used, were given to the McDougald Construction company. The largest contract of all, calling for paving of 6,148 square yards on Woodward avenue between Cherokee avenue and Hill street, was held up until the next meeting of the committee.

NEGRO BAPTISTS FINISH SESSIONS

Revision of its constitution and the presentation of reports of a number of boards occupied practically the final session Friday of the General Mission Negro Baptist convention, in session in Atlanta.

Among the various boards whose reports were read Friday were: The executive board, reformatory board, Central City college board, missionary board, education board, the general missionary Baptist Sunday school and the B. Y. P. U. conventions.

Another feature of Friday's session was selection of Brunswick, Ga., as the city where the convention will meet next year on the Tuesday before the third Sunday in November.

Leaders Take Part.

Among the prominent negro leaders who took part in Friday's session were: Rev. E. W. D. Isaac, of Nashville, Tenn., corresponding secretary of the National Baptist convention; Rev. C. A. Greer, corresponding secretary and treasurer of the Educational National Baptist church of Augusta; Rev. W. S. Townsend, of Nashville, Tenn., corresponding secretary of the Sunday school board of the National Baptist convention; Rev. L. K. Williams, of Chicago, president of the National Baptist convention, and Professor W. M. Nix, national evangelist, singer and compiler of several hymnals.

The convention Friday adopted resolutions commending the work of the inter-racial committee, as well as resolutions to establish an annuity fund for the support of the infirm and aged ministers and asking for election of one or more white members to associate with the board in their work.

Greetings Are Sent.

Greetings from the white Georgia Baptist convention were presented by Rev. D. W. Key, of Atlanta. The closing sermon of the convention was preached Friday night by Dr. D. F. Thompson, of the Tabernacle Baptist church of Augusta. The total amount of money raised for all purposes was announced by the convention as $37,490.28.

The women's department of the convention voted to erect a dormitory for boys on the campus of the Central City college grounds by or before the opening of the next term.

Reports Are Read.

The annual address by the president and the reading of the reports of the treasurer, state director and the corresponding secretary were the outstanding features of Friday's session of the woman's auxiliary of the convention.

Among the speakers who addressed the auxiliary Friday were: Rev. L. K. Williams, Dr. W. M. Reddick, president of the American institute; Dr. A. M. Townsend, of Nashville, Tenn., corresponding secretary of the Baptist Publishers' board, and E. W. D. Isaac.

Devotional exercises were held Thursday morning being led by the delegation from the Springfield Baptist church, of Washington, Ga. Della M. Gasdon, vice president, addressed the convention on "The Responsibility of Christians."

Friday night a young people's program was conducted under the direction of Hattie E. Harris. The total amount of money raised by the women's auxiliary was announced as $3,178.25.

'Pa' Rhineland Says Son's Bride Is English Girl

New York, November 14.—Phil Rhineland, father of Leonard K. Rhineland, has given out an official communique, couched in language formal as that of a state document in which he advises the public that Leonard Kip has been married.

The elder Rhineland's statement does not even mention the bride, nor does he refer to the published report that she is of negro ancestry. The marriage took place within the father's knowledge.

"Mr. Rhineland has never met the young lady whom his son has married, but he is informed that she is of English parentage," the communique says.

"Mr. Rhineland further states that he has authorized no other statements to be made, and that neither he nor his attorney will make any further statement."

The report was read by Rev. J. H. Harmon, chairman, and was signed by R. H. Ward, J. W. Langster, J. McFarlin and L. A. Townsend, Jr. In the program, a resolution was submitted to the convention on the state of the country, caused a general heated discussion.

The report was read by Rev. J. H. Harmon, chairman, and was signed by R. H. Ward, J. W. Langster, J. McFarlin and L. A. Townsend, Jr. In the program, a resolution was submitted to the convention on the state of the country, caused a general heated discussion.

Several leaders opposed changes in the report on the grounds that it would be misunderstood. R. D. Stinson, of the Atlanta Normal institute, said the negro has and is now making remarkable headway and will continue to do so if his leaders advise wisely and soberly and cautiously.

Dr. A. W. Williams indorsed the report.

Presiding Elder J. H. McFarlin, of the Atlanta Normal institute, said the negro has and is now making remarkable headway and will continue to do so if his leaders advise wisely and soberly and cautiously.

Saturday Program.

Professor D. R. Fobbs read the report on the state of the church. Other reports were read also.

A program of addresses and songs for Saturday night at the Atlanta Normal institute was announced by Rev. J. A. Hadley, president of the South Atlanta district, will preside. Rev. Richard D. Stinson will be the principal speaker.

Several members of the Atlanta M. E. First church called upon Bishop Flipper today, requesting the return of Rev. W. A. Fountain, Jr., who was transferred to Marietta last week. Bishop Flipper called into conference Presiding Elders C. L. Williams, R. Fleming, B. V. Thornton and T. W. Williams. A decision will be given to the church later.

The educational rally tonight consisted of addresses from President R. L. Dean, W. G. Alexander, R. Fobbs, J. R. Gardner, Dr. L. Smith.

SAVANNAH READY FOR J. D. C. MEET

Savannah, Ga., November 14.—Arrangements have been made for the general convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy which will convene here next Tuesday morning and last through Saturday afternoon.

The convention will be brilliant and many delightful social features have been planned for visitors.

Mrs. Frank Harold, of Americus, president general, will arrive tomorrow and will confer with Mrs. A. B. Hull, president of the Savannah chapter, U. D. C., which will be hostess to the convention.

An interesting net connected with the convention is that Mrs. Hull was president of the chapter when the general convention was held in Savannah in 1914, having been the head of the Savannah chapter for 19 years.

To Fete Officials.
On Tuesday afternoon at the U. D. C. memorial hall, there will be a luncheon for the officers of the general U. D. C. and the special guests. This will be the first visitors.

Prominent Delegates.
Among the prominent women who are in Savannah for the convention are Mrs. Alex B. White, of Marion, Pa., a former president general at whose suggestion the Jefferson Davis highway was given its name; Mrs. Cornelia Brantley, of Washington, D. C., who is honorary president of the U. D. C., an ex-president general and a member of the national executive staff; Mrs. Roy Weeks McKinney of Paducah, Ky.; Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuler, a former president general Mrs. St. Louis, Mo., who is president of the chapter of the memorial service; Mrs. Emma Fox will be the official parliamentarian. She is the parliamentarian for the general Federation of Women's Clubs.

Muste at the convention will be an interesting feature. The St. Cecilia club, an organization of women, will sing "Dixie" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

HILLS FOR SLAYERS

Law. Punishment of these slayers is a matter for the state courts, but I am determined that my forces shall aid in bringing the guilty to justice. The slayers are going to be punished if every man on my force has to devote his full attention to the search, regardless of the length of time required to take them in charge."

Baker's statement is said to have admitted that he and Anderson went to the north Georgia mountains and purchased two loads of liquor on the day Webb was slain; that they were met near Holcomb bridge, in Gwinnett county, by House and Ransom; that he and Ransom brought the liquor on to Atlanta, and that Anderson and House remained at the bridge for the purpose of giving battle to the officers, who had been chasing the liquor cars for almost 10 miles.

Officer Elson has said that his company was slain and he was badly beaten after two men caused them to relax their vigilance by inviting them to search their car and had pressed friendship. Elson was struck down with a black-jack and Webb was beaten over the head and shot.

Following Baker's confession, Friday, federal and state officers went to Anderson's former home in Dawson county and conducted a search. When Anderson's father, the man sought, declared that his son had not been at home for more than a week. Residents of the community, however, told the officers that the voice, and was there Thursday, that his face and head bore marks of a battle, and that he was believed to have gone farther into the mountains.

Federal agents are convinced that Anderson, House and Ransom are together, and that they are barricaded in a veritable arsenal.

vention, annual conventions having given place through constitutional amendment to biennial gatherings.

Ends With Long Session.
Following the post-convention meeting of the board of long business session of the convention was held Friday morning and this session was followed by a luncheon to the executive board which alone held over into the afternoon. Last-minute reports and unfinished business crowded each other during the morning.

No announcement was made as to the next meeting place. Mrs. T. T. Stevens, chairman of the time and place committee and president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, announced that several Georgia cities have invited the next convention. The next convention will be held in the spring of 1925, under a constitutional amendment adopted here.

A feature of the closing session was the presentation to Mrs. Nora Lawrence Smith, of Ashburn, editor of the Wiregrass Farmer, of a silver loving cup for her work during the last year in creating interest in the study of forestry and forest conservation in her district. Mrs. Smith is chairman of forestry for the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. The cup was offered by Mrs. W. W. Stark, of Commerce, chairman of credentials for the Georgia Federation. Mrs. Stark announced another cup to the district receiving recognition three years in succession for this work will be offered to another year.

Headquarters Report.
Mrs. J. Lindsey Johnson speaks. Mrs. J. Lindsey Johnson, of Rome, president of the federation, now chairman of continuation, presented "current events of 20 years ago." Mrs. Johnson stated that with the exception of the first five years of the federation, the past 20 years have been completed, to date, urged the aid of the women in helping to secure the records now missing. Mrs. Johnson stated that it will be the supreme duty of the committee to work toward this aim. Mrs. Johnson's report was interspersed with many amusing recollections of past aims and achievements.

Mrs. Borkin announced to the convention that a check for $200 from the American Legion, had been received for a scholarship for a boy at the Tallulah Falls school.

Congratulatory Telegrams.
Asheville, N. C., to Mrs. Brantley and every one of you, I am deeply touched by your thought of me, and happily confident that you will find success in your federal program.

From Mrs. D. Sherman, president of the general federation: "I am thinking of the dear club women of Georgia and wishing I might be with them at their convention, but I am happy in the thought that the general federation is so admirably represented in Mrs. J. E. Hays, Mrs. Inman and Mrs. Richardson. Love to you all. MARY SHERMAN."

Americus, Ga., to Mrs. Brantley, president Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs: Greetings from general organization United Daughters of the Confederacy, extension of body of women of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs in convention assembled. We are proud of your activities.

MRS. FRANK HAROLD.
President General, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Florida, sends greetings to Georgia's president and her splendid federation.

MRS. W. F. BLACKMAN.
President, Federation of Women's Clubs, Savannah, Ga.: Greetings and best wishes for a successful convention. Regret cannot be with you to express good wishes in person. Doris S. Mandes, president of Georgia Federation Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Message from Negro Women.
Savannah, Ga.—To the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, now in session in Atlanta, Ga.: Greetings! As president of the National Association of Colored Women, I extend to you hearty greetings and respectfully ask your cooperation in the Southern Federation of Colored Women's Clubs in working out a basis for understanding between the races and the development of better citizens. Georgia's women can make Georgia blossom as the rose. May God bless your efforts. Mary McLeod Bethune, president Georgia Federation of Colored Women.

Savannah, Ga.—To Mrs. Archibald P. Brantley, Officers and Members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs: Greetings! Allow me, as president of the Georgia Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, to thank you for your kind representation at our recent state meeting and in the name of the God we serve, to thank you for your continued consideration and cooperation in the making of this, our beloved state, a Mecca for righteousness, real refuge for the oppressed. Wishing you abundant success, for as you are successful so shall we be. I am, respectfully yours, Rebecca Stiles Taylor.

Mrs. Brantley spoke briefly on the wonderful strides made by organized colored women and asked that a telegram be sent to Mary McLeod Bethune, president of the National Association of Colored Women, to thank her for her efforts in behalf of the colored children in Georgia. Alice Carey is connected with the Morris Brown university, which is city library for the colored branch of Carnegie library. Mrs. Frank Woodruff stated that Alice Carey had rendered much valuable assistance in the making of the first Christmas seals in Atlanta.

Junior Work.
Mrs. Norman Sharp, state chairman of junior membership and president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, urged that the clubs encourage this feature of club work. Mrs. Sharp's suggestions included classes and activities for girls from six to thirty years of age, and stated that it was the desire of the president that junior memberships be established in all the clubs.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson spoke in behalf of the children's code, which it is hoped to present before the next legislature, and pleaded that a full study be given of same and every effort made to obtain its enactment into law.

Love Feast at End.
Mrs. Archibald P. Brantley expressed deepest appreciation for the thoughtfulness and hospitality shown throughout the convention to herself and to all delegates and visitors by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs. In a brief speech, she declared the entertainment and pleasures provided were unsurpassed in the history of the federation.

A rising vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. T. T. Stevens; Mrs. Frank McCormack, acting chairman of credentials; Mrs. Arthur Hazzard, chairman of badges; Mrs. Charles Chalmers, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, general chairman of luncheon; Mrs. Newton Wing, chairman of automobiles, and Miss Helen Knox Spain for their splendid services.

Telegrams of love were sent Mrs. A. E. Thornton, Mrs. W. G. Kaines, Mrs. W. F. Wilhoit and Mrs. James Jackson, who were prevented by illness from attending. Mrs. Rosa Woodberry, state parliamentarian and instructor of the parliamentary classes which have been a daily feature of the convention, was presented with a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums from the chairman of parliamentary classes for the convention.

Mrs. Murray Howard, president of the Woman's Civic Club of West End, Mrs. J. E. Hays, past-president of the convention, and the able manner in which Mrs. Brantley had conducted same.

During the morning session Mrs. Brantley gave a fervent expression of gratitude for the hospitality and thoughtfulness of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, the organization of the convention. "A most wonderful occasion," she described it.

Mrs. T. T. Stevens, responding to this expression, said the Atlanta federation deemed itself honored by the convention. Mrs. Frank McCormack and Mrs. Arthur Hazzard, of the Atlanta hostess organization, were particularly praised for their part in the entertainment by Mrs. Brantley and Mrs. Stevens.

Headquarters Report.
A report on administration of federation headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building in Atlanta was made by Mrs. Samuel M. Inman. The report and its accompanying remarks constituted a sort of clinic in club and federation methods. The clubhouse, Mrs. Inman said, is having been present at the first meeting of the federation 20 years ago.

The original members, besides Mrs. Callaway, were Mrs. J. Lindsey Johnson, Mrs. J. Kling, Mrs. E. L. Connally, Mrs. Joel Hunter, Mrs. J. K. Otley and Miss Rosa Woodberry.

Mrs. Frank McCormack, of Atlanta, who served as chairman of the credentials committee in place of Mrs. W. W. Stark, of Commerce, who was unable to attend until the final session on Friday, announced registration figures showed 755 delegates and visitors had come to Atlanta for the convention. The actual voting strength of the convention was 342. There were 413 visitors.

Appeal to the legislature for an appropriation for the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs was made by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs at the closing session of the convention. The Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, which is a branch of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, is a branch of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs.

Indorsement of school instruction in humane conduct; indorsement of the Red Cross roll call; indorsement of the observance of the birthday of Joel Chandler Harris; expression of condolence in the death of Mrs. W. S. Witham, of Atlanta.

Enjoyable Occasion.
The members of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs appear to have had a good time in their Atlanta convention. Here is a list of resolutions adopted at the session Thursday night to prove it:

"Resolved, That the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs express its thanks and appreciation of courtesies received from the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs and the many courtesies extended by its president, Mrs. T. T. Stevens; the Atlanta Woman's Club, the chairman of the dinner, the press of Atlanta and the state, the churches and ministers of the city, J. J. Haverly, Miss Mae Haverly, Major Pitcher, of the United States army, and the city of Atlanta, Georgia, for their cooperation in carrying out their program, we give special thanks."

Further proof of this appreciation came at Thursday's luncheon, when Miss Lucille Akin, youthful president of the sixth district, gave Mrs. T. T. Stevens, who is official hostess as president of the Atlanta federation an immense cluster of chrysanthemums, the gift of district presidents.

The report of the parliamentarian, Miss Rosa Woodberry, that the new capitol, which became effective January, 1925, and that all clubs who have paid dues for 1925, should remit the 10 cents additional, was accepted, as were new regulations regarding award of a gavel to the district exhibiting greatest efficiency in carrying on club business. These rules will determine the award at the next convention, which will take place in the spring of 1926.

Benefit of Clergy Is Denied
POLITICIANS PAY RESPECTS TO DEAD BEFORE DAWN
At Burial of Gangland King

Chicago, November 14.—Dean O'Bannon, of the pistols and poses, whose traffic in beer, blood and vulgar wares brought him a million dollars in a violent death, was buried Friday, mourned by the clergy of the underworld and a grey and feeble mother who could not understand why it had to be "without benefit of clergy."

When Dean's mother got the word that he had been shot down in the little fall shop which the chief of police say he used as a disguise for his prodigious criminal activities, she supposed that the funeral would be held in the church where he had been a choir boy.

But a man whom the police chief dubbed an "encyclopedia of crime," could not be given the blessing of the church, and so they held the services from a dingy little undertaker's parlor behind a mountain of gorgeous chrysanthemums and floral wreaths, while a young man of the cloth said a short, little prayer for the soul of the man who would have gone the limit for him.

Candles, held by weeping angels of plaster, threw a flickering light over the funeral service. On the crucifix on its lid, the $10,000 coffin in which lay, like a wax figure, the figure of a man strikingly handsome in death.

After the orchestra had played "Abide With Me" and Chopin's Funeral March, the coffin lid was screwed down and covered with a blanket of roses. The mourners filed out to be swept off their feet by the restless mob that had broken the police lines.

As the coffin was carried out to the hearse one of the wreaths rolled off into a little mud puddle. On it was inscribed "To Our Pal, Dean, From the Newsboys."

Dean was a power in the public sentiment, but there were only a few politicians at the funeral to pay their respects. They had come early—a great many of them—at 3 o'clock in the morning. There was a secret pilgrimage.

DECISION GIVEN TODAY ON REMOVING TRACKS

Decisions on petitions of the Georgia Railway & Power Company asking permission to abandon service and remove tracks on four different lines probably will be rendered at a meeting of the city council to be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the city hall.

The power company claims that service on the four lines, which they wish to abandon, will be supplemented by operation of additional cars on nearby lines, and that removal of the tracks would in no way inconvenience the public. The petitions also contend that not enough revenue is received from the lines to question to provide for expenses of maintenance.

Lines on which the power company wishes to abandon service are Hill street, between Orme and Luckie streets; Hill street from Fair street to Woodward avenue, and Woodward avenue from Hill street to Cherokee avenue; Fraser street from Fair to Hunter streets, and Ashby street from Gordon to Matthews streets.

The city engineer has recommended that the tracks on Hill street and Woodward avenue, the company proposes to build a double track on Cherokee street, between Hill and Fraser streets, and a double track on Woodward avenue, and route 1 further east cars out Fair street to the Grant park terminus via Cherokee avenue.

As the Fraser street line now is used only for inbound Stone Mountain and South Decatur cars, and not for local service, the power company suggests that a double track right-hand branch at Fair and Hill streets, and route inbound Stone Mountain and Decatur cars over Fair street to Hill, and the center of town by way of Hill and Hunter streets.

The Hill street line is unnecessary, the petition states, because cars now operate from Broad street out Luckie street to the city waterworks. The power company also claims that abandonment of the Ashby street line will be made up for by additional cars on nearby lines.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR DR. I. S. OLLIFF

Funeral services for Dr. I. S. Olliff, 48, of 29 Kenosaw avenue, a dentist in Atlanta for the past six years, who died at a private sanitarium Friday, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond funeral directors. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Dr. Olliff is survived by his widow; two daughters, Misses Maria Leone and Lavinia Olliff; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Ralph Hare, of Atlanta; a stepson, R. M. Olliff, of Euclid, Ga.; and three brothers, W. A. Olliff, of Bainbridge; Rev. F. C. Olliff, of Fitzgerald, and B. M. Olliff, of Sylvester.

'DUNNING' LETTERS
CAUSE INDICTMENT OF TWO CLOTHIERS

New Orleans, November 14.—Indictments charging them with conspiracy to use the United States mails to "reflect injuriously upon the character and conduct" of a woman customer were returned today by the federal grand jury against three national and two local officials of the Askin & Marine Credit Clothing company. The indictments, charging nine overt acts, name Sam Askin, president and principal owner of the chain of stores operated by the concern; Claude L. Foster, general manager, and F. J. Welch, supervisor of accounts, of New York, and Laurence J. Cunningham, manager of the New Orleans store.

The indictments grew out of alleged violation of postal regulations concerning the sending of "dunning" letters through the mails.

Recently the driver of a sedan on a cross-country road near Naumburg, Germany, was amazed when an aviator draped from the sky, crashed through the top of the car and landed on the back seat of the car only slightly bruised.

Mercer Upsets Grid Dope Blanking Florida

Cecil Scores Touchdown And Lawrence Kicks for Four Points--10 To 0

BY LEONARD WILLIAMS.
Macon, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—In what old-timers of this city designate as the greatest football game Macon has ever witnessed, the Mercer Bears outplayed and outscored the Florida Alligators on Alumni field this afternoon before hundreds of Mercer's alumni, who had returned to the institution for the annual Home-Coming day celebration.

Despite the fact that the 'Gators were doped to crush the Bear outfit by at least three touchdowns, the Maconites ran up seven points in the first quarter, three in the second, and, though unable to score any more, constantly kept the ball in Florida territory thereafter. This was the only scoring of the day, Mercer taking the big end of a 10-to-0 count.

That veteran of the grid, "Padre" Cecil, who last year tallied the only touchdown Mercer scored in losing 19 to 7 on the Florida's own field, again repeated the performance. Cecil, with Indian-like stolidity, had done little butting the past week, but stubbornly insisted that what he had done last year in Florida he could do today on Alumni field.

Score on Pass.
It was the first period. For one of the few times during the game that the 'Gators seriously threatened the Bear goal, the visitors had the ball on the home team's 20-yard line. Jones, Florida half, dropped back to attempt a field goal which went wild. The oval was given to Mercer on the 20-yard mark and Cecil left for 40 yards. Dave Rice, who plunged through the 'Gator line whose every body else was held, carried it 16.

Bate and Lawrence were held, the vary Cecil was given a chance again. And took it. "Buzzy" Lawrence passed 10 yards to "Padre" Cecil, clearing all interference, the latter ran 15 yards for the touchdown. Lawrence's place kick eluded through the line for an additional point, making the score—Mercer 7, Florida 0.

But for a matter of seconds the field goal, the little red-headed Lawrence punted from 25 yards out, have come in the first quarter, also. As the Mercerites were ranging themselves into punt formation, the period ended with the ball on Florida's 10-yard line. The first play of the second quarter saw the placing of the field goal, ending the scoring.

From that time on, Mercer and his outfit became more and more desperate. When the timer's whistle ended the truce the darkness was so dense over the field that the line in the stands could barely see the plays.

Repeatedly the 'Gator captain hurled the piggins to one and another of his team in vain. Mercer tried to get it out of his territory. Only once, in the last quarter was that accomplished, but the 6,000 spectators felt that his fight through the line for mere minutes stood between high crew and certain defeat.

Aerial Route Fails.
Twenty-three passes he threw and completed only two. Fifteen of these were in the latter half and most of them followed each other without interruption by any other play. Mercer tried only two passes, one of these being successful, it adding in bringing the touchdown. Out of 65 tries at scrimmage, Mercer scored 364 yards, Florida scrimmaged the ball only 37 yards, but ran up 106 yards. Mercer ran up eleven first downs to the 'Gators' nine. All but two of the Mercerites' downs came in the first half, while the visitors added five of theirs in the second.

The vaunted Newton was muffed at every turn. True, it took some times three Bears to down the big 'Gator, but he carried the ball for only 29 yards during the whole scrap, which, however, was the greatest yardage of his team. As against this, through Jimmie Glover, dashing little half of the Baptists, cleared the 'Gator ends for a total of 90 yards, while Dave Rice plunged over center and the guards for 80 more. Cecil came third with a total of 50.

Lightest Stars.
The most damaging man on the Florida team, as Macon fans saw things today, was the left end, Lightsey, he held down the end man that starred in every period of Mercer's last-week game with Wofford, keeping Ellison groggy throughout. Lightsey was the first man down the field on every kick and runs around his end were continuously broken up.

FURMAN BEATS MISSISSIPPI, 7 TO 2

Greenville, S. C., November 14.—In a hotly contested game, featured by spectacular passing of both teams, the Purple Hurricane of Furman University, downed the University of Mississippi here this afternoon, 7 to 2.

A forward pass of 18 yards from Chewing to Dobson on the goal line in the second period, gave Furman the lone touchdown of the game. Herlong added the extra point with a drop-kick.

A strategic move, with but one minute to play, allowed the visitors a safety when Furman had her back to the wall on the seven-yard line. Rather than incur the risk of a possible blocked punt, Waters downed a pass from the center in the safety zone.

PORT PECULATION

by George Congdon
A Pretty Big Frog.
A Close One.
Tech-Vanderbilt.

A COUPLE OF WEEKS AGO, maybe not that long, ye Speculation was looking on Mercer University, and said as much as a wee infant in arms in the matter of football. You know what we said, something about Mercer being too small fish to jump into the big puddle with the Conference teams. Better to be a big frog in a little puddle, or something like that, we said. The occasion was a visit of Coach Robinson, of Mercer, to Atlanta to talk about getting on Tech's schedule in 1925.

Yesterday afternoon after transporting a bit of our small amount of household furniture (as assessed, please note the word "small") we steamed back into the shop just in time to hear what Mercer did to Florida. Ye gods and shivering sharks! "Mercer beat Florida!" we queried again in a puzzled sort of way. "That's right," asserted our young Mr. Griffin, who is a bear for accuracy if bears are accurate. All is forgiven, Mercer. Get in the swim. Do your darndest. We're with you.

COACH ROBINSON is due a whole lot more credit for this year's Mercer team than most people would be inclined to give any coach. Three or four years ago, Mercer football was nothing much to speak of but bare breath or an awe-widened eye. It was like prohibition at first, a fine subject for a funny story. That's no reflection on Josh Cody, either. He didn't have any material.

Coach Robinson came along when the thing was just beginning to get a foothold in the Baptist stronghold. But without careful guidance that football wouldn't have been worth a cuss. As it was, Coach Robinson urged football along in Mercer just as it should have been, and the result was that out of the thirty or thirty-five men he had out of the varsity squad at the beginning of this fall he shaped a team that beat Florida, undefeated by a Southern Conference team. The best Tech could do was tie the 'Gators. It wasn't a scoreless tie, either, and the Bears held Florida scoreless!

WE'RE primed for a real battle this afternoon. There'll be one in Atlanta, no doubt of it, but the one we're talking about is that Bulldog-Tiger fuss at Columbus. We've been itching to see Georgia in action all season and this is our first chance. Likewise we've been sort of anxious to see the Pitts outfit, and from our meager information of the game, to try to figure out what is the matter with it.

In spite of scores previous to the Georgia-Auburn game at Columbus this afternoon, we somehow or other feel that Georgia isn't going to have a walkaway. Georgia and Auburn are noted for the close games they have played. Georgia is going like a house afire, Auburn isn't doing so much. Georgia, with moody, molder, or chalk naturally are heavy for Georgia. Yet, Auburn is just right to find its strength as Tech has just found its power. We're looking for about a 7-0 or 10-7 game down there is Columbus today, with Georgia on the long end.

NOW this Tech-Vanderbilt game is something else. The Commodores have certainly outdone Tech in previous playing. Dope sheets, however, are rapidly learning, don't mean any more to football than a lipstick does to a llama. Look what Tech did to L. S. U. when every one except Coach Alexander and the boys were hollering, "Good-bye, Tech!"

Tech and Vanderbilt, we believe, are about as evenly matched as two teams could be the way they stand today just before the scrap out on Grant field. After a recent resumption of athletic relations between the two schools, it's a cinch Vandy has been pointing to Tech. No question about Tech pointing to Vandy. We don't doubt we'll see a very better exhibition of football here this year than they will see this afternoon.

Local Preps Victorious On Home Soil Friday

BY GORDON KEITH.

Playing perhaps their best games of the season, the two Atlanta football teams which played on home soil Friday afternoon turned back the invading eleven in two well-played and colorful football battles. Decatur swamping Madison 41-0, and Marietta upsetting Decatur by beating the strong Locust Grove machine, 12-7.

The first game was made interesting by the pretty runs and passing of the home team, while the second was colorful because it was one of the hardest fought prep battles of the season. Neither team being able to gain much of an advantage over the other.

Marietta played one of its best games of the '24 season in winning from the vaunted visitors, and although the cadets deserved their victory, it was every ounce of the Bear machine's strength to turn in the win. All of the scoring was done in the opening half, the first quarter ending 7-0 in favor of Locust Grove. The visitors received the kick-off and marched straight up the field, using line bucks and end runs, to their only score of the game. Goal was kicked.

Marietta launched drive. Marietta received the kick-off a moment later and launched an attack just as irresistible as the one that was a 20-yard run by Lanford on a double pass, carried the ball from their own 30-yard mark to the 3-yard line, where Brooks broke through the line and intercepted a Locust Grove pass on the 20-yard line and went over for the winning touchdown. Fee missed the extra point. The half ended a few plays later with the count 12-7.

In the second half neither team was able to push a score over, the ball seeing little play before being intercepted. The game ended before Marietta had time to run one play. It was a great game, one that will be remembered by the large crowd of spectators, and about as close and hard a battle as can be fought. Fee outplayed the visiting kicker a few yards, but the margin was too small to make any telling difference.

Neither eleven was particularly successful with the air game, both teams completing only one pass. The Marietta line played a really splendid game, charging and blocking in the best form of the year. In the backfield, Fee played perhaps the best game of the season, running the offense strength running him a close second for honors.

Decatur showed a complete reversal of form Friday and ran rough-shod over the Madison team, winning 41-0. The home team scored 13 points within the first five minutes of play, and had everything entirely its own way throughout the game. The half ended with the count 20-0, and after the victory scored 14-0 in the third period, the entire second team was sent in and accounted for one more touchdown themselves when Murdock crossed the visitors' goal and dropped-kicked the extra point.

Decatur received the kick off and, launching a driving attack that swept all before it, drove over the Madison goal when Flegg plunged off tackle for 20 yards. Edwards kicked goal. The home eleven kicked off, and held the visitors on their own 10-yard line. Jackson blocked the punt, and Proctor fell on the oval behind the goal for the second score. Lyle made one of the touchdowns, and Flegg added a second to his total points. Hensler played a really brilliant game and got one touchdown around end. Edwards made four of his try for points good, and Murdock, second-string halfback, scored a touchdown and kicked goal in the final quarter for the sixth score.

Decatur Shines.
The Decatur team played a great game and fully deserved the one-sided victory. The team put up a strong defense, holding the visitors to ten first downs for the entire game, while their own offense was gaining almost at will. Hensler and Flegg were the winning lights in the attack, while Jackson, Proctor and McCurdy played good ball on the defense.

Steele was shifted from guard to end, and Broadwater sent in to the guard. The new combination worked better than the line-up of a week ago. Few was the whole show in the Madison attack, and Baldwin played a good game on defense at tackle.

G. M. A. BEATS MARIETTA, 41-0.
Marietta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Stride Friday afternoon in Marietta and defeated the high school eleven in a one-sided battle, 41-0. It was the Cadets' last game of the season, and Coach Morrow's men closed their season in a most fitting manner, the game being theirs from the opening whistle.

PENN BILLS ILLINI FOR GAME

Philadelphia, November 14.—The Athletic council of the University of Pennsylvania late today formally announced that Pennsylvania will play the University of Illinois football team here on October 31, next year, and the University of Chicago here October 24. Pennsylvania will play a return game with Illinois in the west in 1926, and with Chicago in 1927. Pennsylvania also will meet the University of Pittsburgh next year.

forward line. Eaton scored two of the touchdowns, one when he returned a punt for 55 yards on a beautiful run and a second on a 20-yard end run.

Goodrum made two through the line, and Camp accounted for another on an intercepted pass. Captain Pike crossed the Marietta goal for the sixth score. Eaton made five out of the six extra points on placement kicks. The entire backfield played a great game and was unstopable. In the line, Mathews played the best game, blocking two punts and recovering several fumbles, but Oliver, Bailey and the entire line pressed this star for highest honors.

ATHENS HIGH BEATS LAVONIA

Lavonia, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—Athens High defeated the Lavonia High eleven, 24-0, Friday afternoon in Lavonia before a large crowd of the supporters of both schools. The Lavonia team put up a great fight and played a good game, but the superior weight and experience of the visiting team told in the end and the smashing Athens attack rolled up 29 points.

Thanksgiving, Athens and Gainesville High play in Athens for the northeast Georgia high school championship, neither eleven having dropped a game this season.

BOYS' HIGH IS DEFEATED

LaGrange, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—LaGrange High school moved out a 14 to 0 victory over Boys' High here this afternoon after 60 minutes of hard play. After receiving the initial kickoff, the visitors on a terrific drive carried the ball back 85 yards line, but the LaGrange line tightened and held for three downs on the fourth.

Albright intercepted a pass and returned it 14 yards. This was the only time the locals' goal line was in any great danger. Jeff Bolden was the outstanding star of the game, hitting the Boys' High line for numerous gains, at one time making 55 yards on three successive plays, all of which were through the line. Fisher and Bryant also featured for LaGrange, the latter doing great work on the line.

Columbus Expecting 15,000 At Annual Game; Bulldogs Already on Scene of Battle

BY "BUG" RAMSEY.

Columbus, Ga., November 14.—(Special.)—This little Georgia metropolis nestled among the hills and on the west bank of the Chattahoochee river tonight has all the Orange and Blue and Red and Black ribbon produced by the mills of the country in place for the annual classic between the fighting gridiron aggregations of Georgia and Auburn tomorrow afternoon at the Driving Park stadium.

The colors of the rival institutions blaze forth from shop windows along the main thoroughfares and up and down Broad street are raging the early arrivals, mostly freshmen from Georgia and a few Auburnites. The city has taken on its yearly Mardi Gras attire and is all waiting for the coming of the dawn to herald in the greatest day in the year for Columbus.

Columbus turns over the keys of the city to the visitors on this gala occasion and it looked tonight as if they had taken immediate possession of the place. The crowds were jolly enough and there wasn't the least animosity between the rival supporters of the contesting elevens; in fact, they will be playmates before and after, although enemies during the struggle.

Columbus Neutral

It has been said that Columbusites set their calendars by the Georgia-Auburn games. That's a bit of an exaggeration, but there are hundreds who live in hope of seeing the coaches and players. The citizens in general won't stand for partiality being shown, and this neutrality, maintained from year to year, is the reason this city is able to get the contests without competition when the time comes for renewal of contract.

The Georgia eleven arrived from Athens today and worked to get kinks out. Coach George "Kid" Woodruff is again in charge of the squad and will be the guest of his mother while there. The team is quartered at the Waverly hotel. The Bulldogs appear in rare condition and there is a confident air about the boys that will make things more than interesting for the Tigers when the time for the clash comes.

The Tigers won't reach the city until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Preparations have been made for the usual gigantic street parade led by the famous Tiger band. The band, along with the players and students, will reach the city at the same hour while their opponents have had to be content with a measly 14 points.

15,000 People Expected

The local Georgia-Auburn committee has prepared for the largest attendance ever at a contest between these elevens. Advance seat sales and those being disposed of here at 25 cents a minute, the main stands open at the driving park swelled the money to something around $20,000 at the close of business tonight. The attendance in rooming houses is expected to reach 15,000 and maybe more.

Fans who come even tomorrow morning can feel that they will have plenty of time to purchase good tickets. The gigantic wooden bowl at the Driving Park is capable of seating 20,000, and five thousand more can be placed in the aisles and along the side lines. Tickets will be on sale at the gates to the park up to the time of the first kickoff.

Traffic regulations were completed late today at a conference between the city police and Georgia-Auburn committee. The main thoroughfare, Broad street, and several other side streets, are to be closed to parking. New driveways to the stadium have been opened and everything done to facilitate the handling of the mob, and do it with neatness and dispatch.

There will be several hundred ushers from among the boy scout troops of the city. These boys have been drilled for two days and will be capable of seating the crowd as fast as they arrive at the stadium. The gates will be opened at noon, although the game does not get under way until 2 o'clock.

Columbus is deeply interested in the Georgia team this season for the simple reason that she has a native son, J. D. Thomason, star back on the Bulldog squad. Thomason has been playing wonderful football this season, his last at the university, and his father and mother are to be present for this all-important engagement.

Tonight, Columbus is ready.

Auburn, Ala., November 14.—(Special.)—As the time of the day was designated as five bells from the clock tower on the Administration building, on the Auburn campus, the Auburn Tigers left Drake field behind and halted preparation for the mammoth struggle with the Georgia Bulldogs on the banks of the Chattahoochee Saturday. The game Saturday will mark the 29th gridiron meeting of teams representing the Alabama Polytechnic institute, of Auburn, and the University of Georgia, of Athens.

Saturday morning Coach Pitts with his squad of 30 Tigers, will entrain for the 35-mile jaunt to the scene of battle on the football special that will carry along the Auburn band and several hundred students from the Tiger village. Along with the Auburn contingent will be a grim, dead set, and never-shaking determination to present a defense that will stop the onrush of the Athenians for the whole 60 minutes of play. The biggest of their job is further emphasized by one glance at the handsome offensive record of the Georgia team thus far this season, having scored 116 points while their opponents have had to be content with a measly 14 points.

Friday afternoon the Tigers devoted most of their final practice period to signal drill and formation work. The probable lineup to start the game Saturday will be: Center, Captain Lawrence; guards, McFadden, Brice; tackles, Grisham and Harkins; or Stitz; ends, Ollinger and Pruitt; quarter, Petersen; Halves, Green and Williams; or Allen; fullback, Salter.

Miss Mary Patterson, of Columbus, Ga., and Miss Celeste Vance, of Enfield, Ala., have been named as sponsors of the Auburn team in their annual Georgia battle.

OGLETHORPE Princeton Tiger Sets Claws
READY FOR Toward Yale in Classic
ST. LOUIS

Tiger that showed Harvard to pieces a week ago in one of the most startling gridiron upsets of all time, will attempt to claw his way to victory over the Bulldog, of Yale, tomorrow in Palmer stadium.

While Bill Roper's rejuvenated Orange and Black Tornado is battling for the title, the three Princeton ship in the most colorful feature of tomorrow's eastern gridiron calendar, will be the game between the Yale of the spotlight, with Cornell and Harvard. Moinet, the new Cornell star, is Cornell's backfield ace.

Penn State is another eleven which has come back to winning form after early disappointments and may upset Pennsylvania, the only major team undefeated or untied in the east.

Among the important games, Harvard, reorganizing its shattered forces, promises to have difficulty repelling Brown, which gave Yale and Dartmouth sturdy battle, while Williams, Dartmouth waging their annual fray on a neutral field, the Polo Grounds, in New York City, to keep her slate clean against Penn State's attack at Philadelphia.

Close to 200,000 persons may witness this outstanding trio of contests. Palmer stadium will be taxed to its limit. The 100,000 figures that represent barely third of the number that sought tickets. The Dartmouth-Cornell game, drawing a host of alumni and attracting unusual interest among anti-war sentiment, may be witnessed by 60,000, while increased facilities at Franklin field may permit 70,000 to watch the Quaker and Nittany Lion in action.

Not only the Quakers and Nittany Lion, but the Maryland and Virginia are generally picked as slight favorites in these battles, but none has a decided edge in what promises to be three of the most keenly-watched of the season.

Terrific Momentum.

in another New England attraction, will be favored to defeat Amherst and fourth successive title for the fourth successive season.

West Virginia and Washington & Jefferson figure to triumph in two other games, possessing traditional inland superiority over Washington and the Presidents against the Pittsburgh Panthers.

The service teams both have strong opposition, with the Army playing Columbia and the Navy playing the traveling Bucknell at Annapolis, but the Cadets and Middies are favored to win.

Two inter-collegial games, one between the McMillan's Centenary college eleven and Boston College and the other involving the Quantic Marines and Detroit university, enliven the program.

Honorary leading games, and 1923 service performances follow:

part in this fray and much will depend upon which eleven gets the jump at the start. The Tiger ward wall has an edge on the Eli line, which will enter the game minus Bingham, star end, but both teams lack a wealth of hands and are short in the tight end position. The hope is on the running of Williams and Slagle, while Cottle and Pond are the Blue's main offensive weapons.

are well equipped kicking and both possess a deceptive aerial offensive.

Dartmouth, undefeated and tied only by Yale, boasts one of the strongest offenses in the country. In the last three successive defeats at the hands of Cornell, the Green has been pointing for tomorrow's battle, the last of the season, but Dobie's team has been badly impaired by the comeback since early season defeats by Williams and Rutgers. The rivals appear well matched on the line, but Dartmouth has the edge in the backfield with including "Swee" Oberlander, Doc W. Bryan, defeated democratic vice presidential nominee, announced that the state-owned station would continue to sell gas at 13 cents.

It is not clear whether the oil companies had no fear of future interference from the national or state governments.

Gasoline now in the hands of dealers in this state," the governor declared, "cost not more than 7 cents a gallon. It will order more gasoline to meet the demand at the state filling stations. I go out of office on January 1."

Joyland Welcomes You

On Rich's Fourth Floor---A Wonderland Flings Wide Its Doors!

Come, all you girls and boys, big and little—to Happyland! Bring Mother and Daddy and Uncle Jack! Let's all get that magical anything-might-happen feeling!—It's here—in Toyland! First of all, don't miss the Life-Size Mechanical Clown in the windows! — You'll split your sides laughing at his stunts on the big ball!

—Then take Rich's Magic Carpet (the Elevators) and fly to the Fourth Floor. Oo-e-e-e!—More fun 'n a barrel o' monkeys! Listen! Look!

Santa's Jazz Band Will Play!

9:30 to 11:30 A. M.—12:30 to 1:30 P. M.—2:30 to 4:30 P. M.

—Santa Claus and his Merry Men—all dressed up in jolly "Santa" Suits—play the liveliest tunes you ever heard!—The Pied Piper of Hamelin had nothing on them! Rich's Toyland's the won-der-fullest place! Goodness me!—It's enough to inspire the naughtiest boy and girl to be good from now till Christmas! Something's going on every minute! Come, see!

Broncho Pete's Bucking Horse!

—Looks as if "Broncho Pete" were training to be a second "Bill" Hart! Meet "Rowly-Boat," Pony, and Dragon—the new members of the "Tinker" Family. Look at the Mailplanes.—You'd think they could carry letters to New York! Don't miss the instructive toys that pretend they aren't. Did you ever think there could be so many "Buddy L" Toys?—That Hook - and - Ladder looks like it could go to a sure-nuff fire! Come, stay all day! —You—and You—and YOU!

Chuckle at "Archie" With Sparkling Eyes

—And the most amusing freckled face! He belongs to the famous "Bonson" Family—their youngest "child." Pull a string!—How his eyes WILL sparkle!

Cuddly Dollies

—From the time the first little girl—as Kipling would put it—cuddled a roughly carved block in her arms—to the lifelike dolls in Toyland that walk and talk—Dollies have been FIRST on the lists of tiny folk with mother - hearts. They'll choose those at Rich's.

Toy Auto Show

—My, how boys will like the shiny new automobiles—the Filling Stations that look like the real thing—the garages that seem for all the world like Dad's!

—'N' TRAINS! — 'Lectrical 'n' mechanical—lots of 'em! —With semaphores, crossing gates and crossovers, stations—ever-y-thing!

"The time has come," old Santa said,
"To talk of Christmas joys,
Of soldiers, dolls and building blocks,
And drums and other toys."

Note to All Santa's Helpers

—You'll never be severely criticized for "listening in" on the youngsters' conferences with Santa Claus—you will "learn many things to your advantage."

—Then ACT QUICKLY! Now! TODAY! What a heart-rending tragedy if any of the things Dick and Dorothy asked for shouldn't arrive on time to be found at the foot of the tree "on Christmas Day in the morning!"

Sing a song o' sixpence,
A world full o' toys!
Santa Claus is coming
To good girls and boys.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Home-Made Bread Crumbs.

The meat-grinder need not be confined to meat. It makes splendid bread crumbs. Dry the stale bread in the oven and then grind. Real economy.

A Homelike Touch.

We cannot all afford cut flowers for decoration at all times. But we can have just one potted plant in our living room to give it a home-like appearance.

A Note for the Milkman.

When leaving a note in the milk bottle for the milkman, invert a jelly tumbler over the top after the note has been placed in the bottle. Then weather conditions will not affect its delivery.

This Will Help You.

Hominy should never be stirred. Cover the freshly-made starch with a pan and no skin will form on top. Nutmeg as flavoring in apple sauce is a pleasant change from cinnamon. Highly decorated or colored vases will detract from your flowers and spoil a lovely effect.

What Land and Water Make.

From the Edinburgh Scotsman. A schoolmaster had been giving his class a lesson in physical geography, and had explained that the world is made up of land and water. Then, in order to see if they had been paying attention, he asked, "Now, boys, can you tell me what it is land and water make?" Presently a little boy put up his hand and replied, "Mud, sir!"

OVERCOATS

Of Quality

For Boys and Young Men

There are cheaper coats, to be sure. It's easy enough to lower price by lowering quality of material and workmanship. Sometimes it's hard to tell the difference except by wear—usually a costly experience to the buyer of the cheaper coat.

As a rule, however, a brief inspection and comparison of fabrics, of linings, and of tailoring—and of style and fit—will point surely to the differences in favor of the coat of quality. It pays to look before deciding.

Overcoats for Boys 3 to 8

Mannish types, smartly cut, good all-wool fabrics, in light, medium and dark shades. Lined and tailored in most approved ways.

$10.75—$12.75—$13.75

Overcoats for Boys and Young Men of 9 to 20

Splendid all-wool coat fabrics in greys, browns, tans, blues. Modeled with straight English backs or belted. Superior materials, linings and tailoring.

Saturday Will Be Busy Day Among Organized Women

An unusually large number of women's organizations will meet today to devise new plans, organize new work and make reports on past activities. U. D. C. and D. A. R. meetings occupy prominent places on the day's calendar and other organizations meeting will include church societies, women's clubs, music, history, craftsman and theological classes. An opera to be given in the senior high school auditorium of the Decatur Junior high school is of wide interest, as is also the program to be given by the Atlanta Junior Music club.

Short Story Writing Classes To Begin

One of the new features of club work, which will be adopted by the Atlanta Woman's Club during the next week will be the classes in short story writing, which will be conducted through the literature division of the club, with Mrs. W. F. Melton as chairman.

Mrs. Adelaide Howell Bower, well-known newspaper woman, will be the instructor of the classes. Judging from the number of registrations already made, this promises to be one of the most interesting classes the club conducts.

Tuesday of each week will be chosen for the study classes, holding the sessions from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Those wishing to register for the classes in short story writing will please call Mrs. Adelaide Howell Bower, at Hemlock 3310, or Mrs. W. F. Melton, at Decatur 2060-W, before Tuesday of the coming week.

LaGrange Alumnae To Aid Publication

The alumnae of LaGrange college have been asked to assist in the publication of the "Quadrangle," the yearbook of the student body. That portion of the book devoted to the Atlanta chapter will contain many pictures and sketches of prominent alumnae among whom will be Mrs. Luke Johnson, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, Mrs. Warren Chandler, Mrs. Thomas Northern, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. James Ridley and Mrs. Howard Chandler.

All members of the chapter are urged to be present at the monthly meeting held at the home of Mrs. R. W. Evans, on Howell road, Tuesday, November 18, at 3 o'clock.

Druid Hills Junior Music Club Benefit

The Druid Hills Junior Music club, directed by Miss Ole Robinson will give a musical at Big Bethel church Sunday afternoon, November 16, at 3:30 o'clock, for the benefit of the building fund of the church.

Among the prominent speakers will be Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Dr. McCord, Jr., and Mrs. Eoline Byron Riley.

AFTER BABY WAS BORN

Back Weak and Painful. Mrs. Miller Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rotan, Tex.—"I am writing to let you know how I have been benefited by taking your medicine. After my second baby was born my back was weak and hurt me continually, so I thought I'd try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I had read so much about where it had helped so many women. I had been bothered with my back for over a year, and it would hurt me until I could not do my work, which is keeping house for three and cooking and washing dishes. I tell all my friends if they have any kind of female trouble to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. You may use this testimonial if it will help any one."—Mrs. C. R. MILLER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 76, Rotan, Texas.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

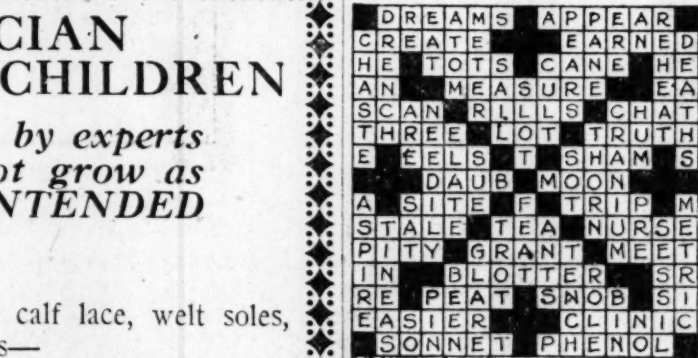

HOW TO SOLVE CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

The numbered squares are the starting points for words extending horizontally or vertically or both. One letter to a square. Words end at first black square encountered on border of puzzle. Pick out a word that fits a given definition and space. This gives you a clue to other words that cross it, and they in turn to still other words.

Solution to Friday's Puzzle.

NEW DIXIE COACH PUT INTO SERVICE ON MADISON LINE

Dixie coach service was inaugurated Friday between Madison and Atlanta. The coaches leave Madison at 7:30 in the morning and arrive in Atlanta at 9:45. The return trip coach leaves Atlanta at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and arrives in Madison at 7:15. A new Dixie coach, of the same palatial and comfortable conveniences of other big-road liners operating in this section, has been placed in service and the new route is expected to prove popular, according to Captain Walter Gordon Roper, head of the Dixie Coaches, Inc.

Coaches operating between Atlanta and several north and middle Georgia cities have reduced travel time between these points, according to Cap-

The Craftsman's class, conducted by Mrs. H. L. Parry, will meet today at 8 o'clock at Girl Scout headquarters, 614 Chamber of Commerce building.

The Piedmont Continental chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet at 3 o'clock at the Hotel Ansley.

BEAUTY CHATS

FIGURES. The waistline, when it exists at all, is still well below the hips. This state of affairs, having lasted some time, is due for a radical change in the near future. Fashion is a constant transfer from one extreme to another, therefore the waist is bound to return to normal position soon or to assume a different one. Already there are signs that the directorio styles are to be revived which means a waistline somewhere around the arm pits. So when making new dresses, keep this coming change in mind, in case you want to make over your present frocks.

"If, whether low or high waisted, the dresses will cling to the figure and show off almost every curve. What about your figure? You will look better in today's styles, than to morrow's, if you are either too stout or too thin. The directorio dresses were cut to cling everywhere except around the waistline.

If you haven't a good figure, buy yourself a new corset, as expensive as you can afford. This is the quickest solution; meantime begin exercises and diet to make yourself so strong and so well proportioned that you need no corset at all. Buy stays of heavy, silk elastic, with little boning as possible, and with slim hips and a roomy waist. This is the healthiest and most comfortable style. Then re-make your underthings or buy new ones of this material, slenderly cut. You want no gathers around the hips, nor over the bust. Try crepe-de-chine, or if that's too expensive, thin muslin or voile. Both chemises and petticoats are now made wrapped over at each side to give proper fullness and preserve flat lines. T. M.—You will increase your time, if you take cod liver oil. If you do not care for this method, drink several quarts of milk each day. A. Blonde—When using either peroxide or lemon juice as a slight bleach for the hair, it should be added to the final rinse of the shampoo. Lillian—There is nothing that the girl of 18 should do to reduce her plump cheeks, unless it would be a general reduction if there was over-weight. Mrs. D. R. R.—You are probably feeling the effects of being too closely confined to the house, which has pulled down your weight and otherwise affected your general health. While the exercise in doing house-work is good for you, you should also have plenty of fresh air, and to derive the best effects from exercise as much work as possible should be done outdoors. Arrange to have at least an hour each day outdoors and breathe deeply, which should purify your blood so that you will lose this tendency to pimples. As you build up again your neck and legs will fill out without any special treatments.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

THE BEST OF ADVICE

CONTINUOUS AND UNCEASING. The education of man, speaking both collectively and individually, is continuous and unceasing. But some learn more than others. Goethe said that first let a man teach himself and then he will be taught by others.

He observed that with the growth of knowledge our ideas must from time to time be organized afresh. The change takes place usually in accordance with new maxims as they arise, but it always remains provisional.

We more readily confess to errors, mistakes and shortcomings in our conduct than in our thought. Goethe's explanation for this is that the conscience is humble and even takes a pleasure in being ashamed. But the intellect is proud, and if forced to recant is driven to despair.

Since men are really interested in nothing but their opinions, every one who puts forward an opinion looks about him right and left for means of strengthening himself and others in it. Goethe opined:

"A man acquires himself of the truth so long as it is serviceable, but he seizes on what is false with a passionate eloquence as soon as he can make a momentary use of it; whether it be to dazzle others with it as a kind of half-truth, or to employ it as a stop-gap for effecting an apparent union between things that have been disjointed."

The history of philosophy, of science, of religion, all shows that opinions are spread in masses, but that that always comes to the front which is more easily grasped, that is to say, is most suited and agreeable to the human mind in its ordinary condition.

"Say," comments Goethe, "the who has practiced self-culture in the higher sense may always reckon upon meeting an adverse majority."

Every man should remain in the path he has struck out for himself.

Red Riding Hood

SYNOPSIS

Mrs. Morgan Schuyler, one of New York's leading philanthropic and social lights, is a young woman to work in her apartment morning. The advertisement is answered by a girl evidently of birth and breeding. In spite of the fact that she admits a desire to hide her identity, Mrs. Schuyler accepts her on trust and tags her with the name of Hope Emerson.

Mrs. Schuyler's family consists of her mother, Mrs. Van Dorn; a younger brother, Jim Van Dorn; and an older brother, Bertie, who is away.

The second morning of her employment Hope faints after receiving a mysterious telephone call. Mrs. Schuyler summons Dr. Horace Osborne. Hope tells the doctor she is employed during the afternoon hours at 708 street. He offers to drive her there, and by a strange coincidence has an appointment at the house where Hope is employed. The patient is a boy of five years named Scarwenka. All of the members of this household are foreigners except Hope, who is known as Sonia. A day or two later a visitor, Colonel Van Saanen, a man of obvious importance, calls at the 708 street home. Hope distrusts him, and learns Scarwenka does also. Van Saanen tells Scarwenka he is going to take the boy away that night. Hope decides to call Dr. Osborne for help. He accompanies her to the house, where the two conspirators find Van Saanen there before them. By a trick the colonel locks Hope and the doctor in the room with the child. They escape through a window, and take the child to a hospital.

The next morning Sally Wallis calls on Hope at the Schuylers'. She tells the secretary about her hopeless love affair. The man in the case has just returned to New York after a long absence, and Sally learns he is in a sanatorium and facing a serious operation. Hope enters the aid of Jim Van Dorn on Sally's behalf. He admits he loves Sally, and promises to keep her eye on her.

Later in the day Hope finds Colonel Vassil installed at that night. The boy, Alexander, presents Hope with a valuable ring, and Vassil tells the girl that the child is destined to rule over a small European country.

Hope accompanies Sally to the sanatorium. Later she explains the mystery surrounding her life.

INSTALLMENT LIV. SALLY'S CONQUEST.

Hope went on with her story while Sally, now thoroughly aroused, listened intently:

She preened and strutted like a contented child.

"Best of all," she said, "work made it possible for me to support myself and to send enough to my father to live on in Europe, as well as to repay part of the money he had advanced. I had repaid that. I couldn't have breathed if I had been on being under such financial obligations to him. That's why I took the extra work with Mrs. Schuyler. Through it all he diverted himself characteristically by working on my nerves, which have been rather knocked out by our troubles. He had warned me that he would keep in touch with me, and that was his way of doing it. He sent me the prints of a wolf's paw to warn me he was coming home—though the card was held back till after he arrived—and he even took the risk of howling at me through the telephone when he did get back, as his pleasant way of letting me know he was here."

"I couldn't understand that," she duly interpolated, "since he wasn't due for another two months. So I tried to convince myself that he had someone else send the signal, but just the same I was horribly frightened. In my soul I felt sure he had come, and I expected him to appear at the East Seventieth street house any day. Now I know why he returned sooner than he was expected, and why he kept away from me after he got back."

"Then he—he is back?" Sally asked the question under her breath, staring straight ahead of her.

"He is back."

The younger girl began to shake violently.

"Why did you tell me all this?" she suddenly cried out. "I—I didn't want to hear it. You know I didn't want to hear it. I told you so! I kept telling you so!"

"I know—but you had to hear it."

As Sally shrank still further into her corner of the taxicab, her hands up to her head, the words she was vainly trying to escape pounded against her ears:

"You've taken it, haven't you?" Hope asked. "Yes, Sally—the man you think you're in love with is my wolf!"

The dinner was off. That point Hope and Sally had settled between them without unnecessary words. But as the secretary put her latch key into the front door of the Schuyler apartment, after leaving Sally at the entrance of her uptown home, the door opened from within and young Van Dorn greeted her with a care-free smile.

"I'm glad you're early," he said. "Mother's going with us, and she's been fussing half an hour for fear you wouldn't be in time."

"But Sally and I agreed to call the dinner off," Hope stammered. "We're sorry, but something came up that made it impossible. I hurried back to make our apologies. We both felt that we couldn't go—"

The young man's care free expression gave way to one of shocked incredulity.

"Well, something seems to have come up here, too," he told her. "Maud suddenly decided that I must take mother out to dinner tonight. She said she was restless and needed a change. Mother doesn't often care to go out at night, so I thought she'd veto the plan. But not a bit of it! She's keen for dinner and a play. That rather put me up a tree, and while I was trying to see through the branches, mother suggested that we take you with us. I expected Maud to sit on that," he added frankly, "but it seemed to strike her as a fine idea. Anything mother wants goes, you know," he ended, "even with Maud. So we're all set, and I'll get Sally on the telephone—"

"Please don't. I'm sure she wouldn't go—and, really, I don't feel as if I could go myself."

"But mother wants you. She made a special point of it. She thinks she's going to give you the time of your young life."

Van Dorn played his trump card complacently, knowing it would take the trick, and Hope hesitated as a vision of the restless aged infant of the morning came back to her.

"Very well," she resignedly decided. "Please tell Mrs. Van Dorn it's kind of her, and that I'll be ready in half an hour."

When the party of three met in the living room thirty-five minutes later, it became clear that the chief guest of the evening had cast off her earlier nervousness. She was an effective figure in a black velvet evening gown, and her white head, always carried with dignity, rode high under the tributes of her son and the secretary. She preened and strutted like a contented child in a new party frock, and she called Hope's special attention to the detail that her slippers were black satin with rhinestone buckles, and that despite her years her ankles bore inspection very well. She evidently felt that she was giving the girl an unusual pleasure, and Hope accepted the role of grateful beneficiary and played it as gracefully as she could.

From the talk of her companions she learned that Mrs. Schuyler had returned to the apartment at 5 o'clock and left it again within half an hour, after a brief consultation with Nancy and Kawa. She had also mentioned that she would not be home to dinner that night. There was nothing new in this, for the real mistress of the household blew in and out of the apartment as freely and often as erratically as the breezes which swept through its lowered window tops.

Jim turned dazzled eyes on the secretary.

"You look stunning! That's the prettiest dress I ever saw, and yet you acted as if you had nothing to wear! How I'm going to deport myself with my usual simple dignity when I have two such beautiful women in my charge, I don't know. I'm afraid I'll have to tell the head waiter one is my mother and the other is my fiancée, and let him spread the glorious news."

"Young folks didn't talk so recklessly in my day," Mrs. Van Dorn severely admonished, as she settled down in the waiting taxicab.

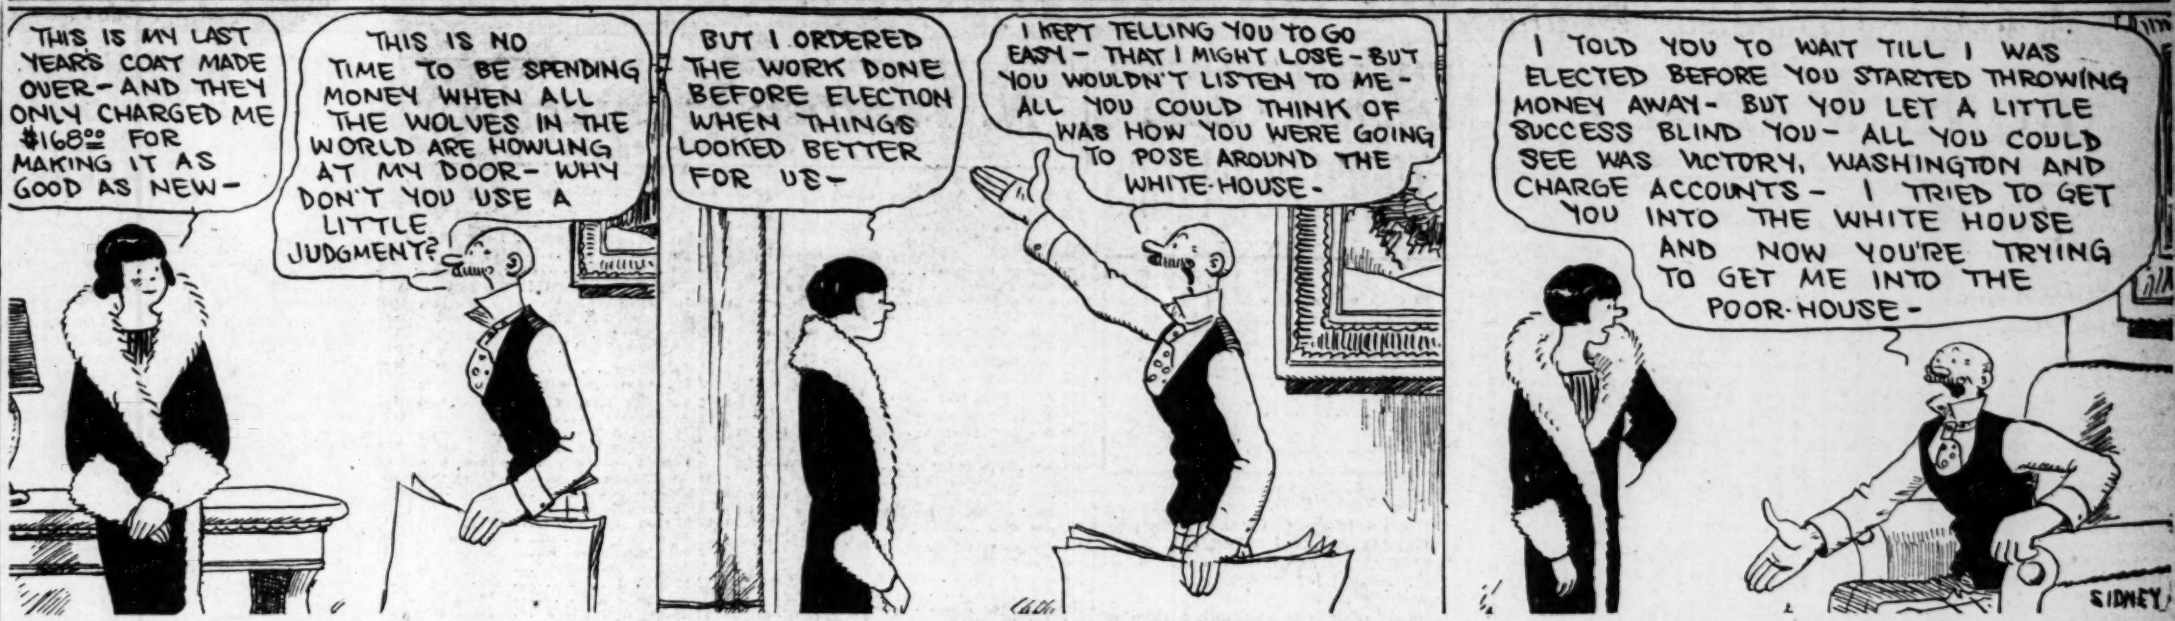

Hope smiled absently. She was wearing the one evening gown she had brought to New York as a souvenir of her prosperous past. It was a thing of beauty in peacock blue and gold, made by a French artist untrammelled by sordid considerations of cost. At sight of the faded eyes of Mrs. Van Dorn had widened perceptibly. It was not the sort of costume she expected to see on the girl who brought in her breakfasts, but she showed no surprise save the one gleam of hope she had caught and read aright. The secretary now drew her simple evening coat around her, and thus temporarily dimmed her own splendor, but she was not self-conscious. She was moving and living tonight like one in a bad dream, and only a long training in self-control enabled her to speak naturally and to play her part in the little social game.

The atmosphere of the Russian cabaret distinctly helped her out. Its orchestra played almost constantly and much too emphatically to permit ordinary conversation, and Mrs. Van Dorn's attention was distracted from the girl by the music and the striking decorations of the place, as well as by some really good Russian folk songs and dances offered the diners as an added attraction. The old lady kept her son busy explaining the novel features of the establishment and pointing out celebrities whose names immediately reminded her of past and present acquaintances and sent her on mental quests for relationships. She monologued steadily, undisturbed by the fact that her companions hardly heard her, and changed subjects with startling abruptness, for there were no conversational bridges in her vocabulary. Incidentally she ate an extremely good dinner, and her enjoyment was further indicated by the tapping of one of the black satin slippers in time to the dance music. When the music grew sentimental, her plump old face took on a Rosary expression while she lent herself to thoughts of the past. Hope was left in peace to move forks aimlessly about her plates and to contemplate the black door which now was so close to her that she could not move without touching it.

MAXSON FOXHALL JURELL

RELATIVITY.
By Marguerite Geibel.
Remember how I worshipped you, Adele,
And scarcely dared to hope you loved me, too?
The world with you was Lear'n, without you, Hell,
I wanted to be worthy, love, of you.
Your crown of hair a chaplet was, to me,
Your innocence was shining in your eyes.
I gloried in the girlish modesty
That failed your many virtues to disguise.
Oh! love, I placed you on a pedestal,
I humbled, felt a love that made me dumb.
Oh! you are still exalted, my Adele,
Oh! I more lowly seem—under your thumb.

One Good Burn Deserves Another.
Horace: "Why do you suppose they call 'em permanent waves?"
Susan: "Once you've started with one you've got to keep right on having it."
—Mrs. George W. Willis.

Daily Practice.
Morgan: "Whatever gave you the idea that you could make good as an exhibition juggler?"
Schuyler: "My boy, you should see me balance a stack of wheat cakes and two cups of coffee in a crowded one-arm lunch room."
—Cecil Bartlett.

Through the Mill.
Let a hardened victim of the glowing "ads" that appear these days tell of his experiences:
A memory course—Suddenly remembered—Sally's skills I owed, that my best girl jilted me, that my wardrobe was inadequate, and a hundred other things it was so nice to forget. A course in physical perfection—Grew so strong that my expenses for meals trebled and I gave up hours to exercise I should have devoted to business.

A course in material advancement—Soon thought I was worth more to my concern than the boss and asked such a big raise that I was fired.

A course in etiquette—Did fairly well before, but began to be so obsessed by the necessity of doing all things right that I did everything wrong.

Hot Trail.
Evelyn: "Mamma went out an awful while ago and I don't know where to hunt for her."
Shaw (who has just arrived home): "Run around the corner and look in the barber shop."
—Philip Hoffman.

Interpretations.
"This is the life" as the drowning man said when he was resuscitated.
"Take it from me" as the timid young lady said when she saw a mouse.
"Long live the king" as the poker player said when he held four of them.
"Beat it" as the housewife said to the servant who was rolling up a rug.
"Make haste slowly" as the man said to his creditors who were hurrying him for payment.
"Keep it dark," as the lover said to his best girl when the lamp went out.
—N. M. Levy.

So the Battle Waged.
Hubby: "You are so ignorant!"
Wife: "I admit it. If I wasn't you'd be single today."
—Franc Leonard.

Under Fire.
Of lazy mortals we're very sick;
Without any pep they seem.
They ought to go to the furnace quick
And learn how to put on steam.
—L. R. K.

Sophisticated.
William: "Good-night—and I love you."
Marian: "Say, don't you think I'm too old for bedtime stories?"

All in the Game.
"I draw the line at kissing," the sweet maiden said to him.
Without any pep they seem.
But that brave young football player of dejection gave no sign;
In sooth, he was quite certain he was in the best of trim.
So a clever dash he managed and he straightway crossed the line.
—Opal D. Shipley.

Caught.
Ed: "Dick married that little Morgan girl."

THE EDITOR'S GOSSIP SHOP.
The high school and college football fields are not the only places where one hears "Cheer, cheer, the gang's all here."
For, we'll wager, everybody in this town, by this time, has contributed something to The Fun Shop—some successfully, and others not so successfully.
So you'll find the "gang's all here" in The Fun Shop aisles.
And, the "gang's" doing their Fun Shopping early.
Because, if you do your Fun Shopping early,
You'll have enough money to do your Christmas shopping early.
Therefore, go to it, and spend all day tomorrow (when not in church) in preparing your contributions to The Fun Shop.

Jim: "Yeah! He was telling me about the catch in her voice."
